76. The forage to be calculated and issued in rations, consisting of 10lbs oats, and 18lbs hay, Extra Forage, which may be required in addition to the rations, shall be calculated at per 100lbs. Each ration of hay to be tied up in a separate bundle, when issued by contractor.

77. The contractor shall furnish, when required by the supply officer, bran in lieu of oats, in the proportion of 14lbs. bran for a ration of oats ; but not beyond one ration of bran to each horse per week except for sick horses, for which rations of bran shall be supplied daily by the Contractor when required.

STRAW IF REQUIRED.

78. The straw shall be oaten, clean, dry and free from thistles and weeds. To be delivered in bun-dles of 12lbs. each at the camp store in such quantities and at such times as may be required.

79. The issue of straw for men when under canvas will be contingent upon the officer commanding the camp certifying to the issue being scale will be as follows, and is not to be exceeded :-12lbs. per man, which is considered sufficient for the whole period of the encampment, whether used in the shape of loose straw, or converted into mats. When straw is issued for the use of troops, it should be made into mats and not left loose in the bottom of the tent. Mats may be best made as follows:—The straw is twisted into ropes; two rows of tent pegs are driven into the ground parallel to one another and two feet apart, and the ropes passed round the pegs to form the web. Other straw ropes are interlaced, so as to form the woof, and an excellent mat is made in a short time. Each man should have two mats, one for his head and shoulders, the other for his legs. Four men will make the mats for an entire tent in one day, two twisting the ropes and two weaving.

81. No straw will be allowed for those tents for which tent flooring is supplied, and tent flooring will not be issued to corps under canvas except when they are encamped in the vicinity of a District store, and there is a supply available for issue.

82. Palliasses will not be supplied to corps under canvas.

CONDITIONS TO BE OBSERVED.

83. If any contractor shall fail to deliver at the time and place appointed any of the supplies contracted for and required in camp, the supply officer shall, under direction of the commanding officer, forthwith purchase the supplies which may be deficient, and the extra cost, if any, of the articles purchased, shall be deducted from any sums which may become due to such contractor.

The officer commanding may, whenever he deems fit, appoint a Board to inspect any supply offered by any contractor for issue, and if the Board be of opinion that the supply offered is not of the quality specified in the contract, it shall be rejected, and the supply officer, under direction of the com-manding officer, shall, without further appeal, purchase the necessary supply in place of that rejected, to be paid for as provided in the preceding clause.

The value of the several supplies furnished under contract will be paid by the Department of Militia and Defence through the District Paymaster on final completion of contract. Accounts in duplicate must be prepared on the prescribed form, and the receipts of the receiving officer must be attached as vouchers.

Payment will only be made to contractors for the actual quantity issued as rations to Corps in camp of such supplies as are contracted for.

MEDICAL REGULATIONS.

80. When straw is so required to be issued the the direction of the senior medical officer of the district in divisional camps of exercise, acting as principal medical officer of division. A portable medicine chest, with the requsite supply of medicine, &c., will be furnished by Government to every battalion of infantry, field battery of artillery, and Regiment of cavalry; on the breaking up of camp these medicine chests will be returned into the district military store, and such medicines, &c., as may have been expended, replaced in order that they may be at all times available for actual service.

86. In brigade or battalion camps of exercise, the medical arrangements will be carried out regimentally, under the direction of the medical officer of each battalion and corps.

87. A medical inspection of every officer, non-commissioned officer and man will be made, if possible, before the men leave the corps or company head quarters; when that is not possible, then the medical Examination must be made immediately after the concentration of the corps or battalion.

88. This inspection is with a view of ascertaining, 1st. Whether the man is labouring under disease of any kind at the time, such as rheumatic affections; diseases of lungs or heart; or any of the viscera of the abdomen; or under any form of syphilitic disease; or is short sighted; or has any disease or injuries of any of the joints ; or badly shaped feet or overlapping toes which would prevent his marching; 2nd. of ascertaining if the man has any predisposition to any of the above diseases, or has recently suffered from any of them, or if he has any other disqualification which may render him unfit for service, or predispose him to become inefficient from exposure.

89. Such men, if any be found, are not to be permitted to go to, or remain in camp, as well for their own sakes, as to prevent claims for compensation being made upon the public on account of illness on the part of men who are not fit for service.

90. Medical Officers of Corps or Battalions will, as soon as practicable, examine all their non-commissioned officers and men to ascertain if they have either had small pox or been vaccinated; and they will vaccinate, with as little delay as possible, all those men who have neither had small pox nor been already vaccinated.

91. The Medical Officer of each Corps or Battalion will make out a sick report every morning and transmit a copy to the Commanding Officer of the battalion; and if attached to a Division, a copy also to the Principal Medical Officer of the Division ; he will also inspect all prisoners before they are brought before the Commanding Officer. (Form of sick report, A.)

92. The Surgeon of each Battalion will keep an admission and discharge Book, of all cases taken into Hespital, according to Form B,

93. Every Surgeon will give a receipt for all articles of medical equipment which may be issued to him for the use of his Corps or Battalion, for the care and proper expenditure of which he will be responsible; and on being relieved from duty he will return all medical stores, articles of equipment and medicine remaining unexpended into the District Stores, with a list of the materials which have been expended by him, on complying with which his receipt will be returned to him.

94. One medical officer will be detailed daily for $5. The medical arrangements for every battalion duty in the camp, as medical officer of the day. nd corps will be carried out regimentally under This officer will remain in the camp during his tour of duty; and a medical officer will be detailed daily for duty at the rifle range, and attend during the rifle practice. With the exception of those detailed for the above duties, all medical officers will attend and accompany their corps upon the occasion of brigade and other field days.

95. Such wine or spirituous liquor, as may be prescribed for use in cases of illness must if procured be paid for by the person reqiring same. The attention of medical officers of corps is specially called to paragraphs 138, 140, and 141 of the Orders and Regulations of the Active Militia.

96. No expense to be incurred by medical officers on account of Government without previous authority for such being obtained. 97. Medical officers will, from day to day, keep a

97. Medical officers will, from day to day, keep a list of the names of all men and officers to whom medicines or medical advice may be given during the 16 days' drill,—according to Form A, page 54, Regulations for the Active Militia,—stating the medicines given in each case, and transmit a copy to head quarters on the breaking up of camp, together with a list of such medicines as have been expended.

98. In any cases of serious illness or accident, the medical officer shall, in conjunction with the commanding officer of the corps, make such immediate arrangements as may be necessary, sending the Patient if possible at once to his home or the nearest Hospital; he will make a minute report to head quarters of all circumstances connected with the case; and he will make a weekly report of the state of his patients, through the commanding officer to head quarters.

99. The medical officer of the day will inspect the camp and vicinity, the guard tents, cooking kitchens, latrines, &c., and will report any dirty or unhealthy condition of the camp to the commanding officer of the Camp.

SELECTION OF SITE FOR ENCAMPMENT.

100. The following are the principles which have mainly led to the established forms of military encampment, and, however troops may be encamped, these principles should govern the disposition of the camp.

1st.—The front of the camp should correspond in extent with the front occupied by the force when deployed in line.

2nd.—The means of passing freely through the camp with a large front should be maintained.

3rd.—The tents, bivouacs, or huts should be disposed with a view to the greatest amount of order, cleanliness, ventilation, and salubrity.

4th.—The camp should be as compactly arranged as the above considerations permit.

101. Battalion tents should never be arranged in a double line; short single lines are best. The tents in line should be separated from each other by a space at the very least equal to a diameter and a half of a tent, and the farther the lines can be conveniently placed from each other the better. Where troops are at a distance from an enemy, and are to remain some time in camp, and ground is available, the camps may be formed at double intervals.

102. Whenever troops remain in camp more than three days, tents should be struck every two days. All arms, straw, and blankets be removed from the ground covered by the tent, and the ground should be swept clean with a broom, or branches of trees, and left exposed to the sun and wind. Blankets, clothes, &c., should be spread out to air, and the tent roughly pitched in the intervals of the camp with slack ropes, and the fly loose to allow it to be well blown about ; tents should never be pitched in the intervals. Men invariably at night urinate round the tent and consequently pollute the ground.

103. Whenever troops remain more than one night in camp, the tent flys should be rolled up the first thing every morning ; in rainy weather, the fly may always be rolled up on the lee ward side of the tent.

104. As a rule, the doors of the tents should face the head of the column, but this rule should never prevent their being turned away from the prevailing wind.

105. Trenches should be dug round tents, and a drain should connect these trenchesso that the water may not lodge in them, but may run freely off. The first wet day after the camp is formed, officers commanding companies should personally examine the ground on which their companies are encamped, and should see that proper d ains are constructed ; half-an-hour's work on a wet day, when the natural run of the water can be seen, will do more to keep the camp healthy than a day's labour in dry weather.

106. In encamping large bodies of troops, it is very desirable that a sketch of the ground, no matter how rough, showing the place to be occupied by each corps, should be prepared beforehand; by this means the officer charged with forming the encampment can in a few minutes place the whole of the camp-colour men, so that when the regiments arrive they may proceed at once to the position assigned to them. Cavalry and Artillery should never be placed on a flank, unless the latter may be necessary for defensive purposes, in which case the guns should be protected by a strong guard of Infantry. The reason for this is that, in case of attack, mounted corps take longer to turn out, and the horses, if frightened, are apt to produce much confusion.

107. The Commissariat Depôt should be placed in a central position, with easy access to all parts of the camp, and close to a good road by which supplies can be brought up. The Engineers usually encamp close to Head-Quarters of the Division.

WATER SUPPLY.

108. Few things are of more importance to the well-being of troops when encamped, than a plentiful supply of pure water.

ful supply of pure water. 109. Wateris usually obtained from streams, ponds, or existing wells. When troops are encamped for a considerable time, or when stationary depôts are formed on the line of communications, it may be necessary to sink wells, make reservoirs, and lay pipes.

110. From whatever source the water supply is derived, it is absolutely requisite that it should not be polluted. The officer entrusted with the duty of forming the encampment will therefore post sentries over it, taking them from the ûrst troops that arrive on the ground; when the camp is completely formed, a regular guard will be posted over the water supply. If the supply is from a stream, great care should be taken that the watering place for the men should be distinct from that for the animals. The latter must be lower down the stream than the former, and it is advisable to send patrols up the stream to prevent men washing or bathing in it.

111. All washing in the neighborhood of wells or watering places used for drinking, should be strictly forbidden, as the foul water percolates through the soil.

112. If the stream have a muddy bottom, great care should be taken not to stir up the mud by dipping vessels into it ; small field pumps, which form an article of Engineer equipment, should be fixed and the supply obtained in that way. If the stream be shallow, dams should be made on it; these are easily constructed with a few pickets and sods,—a small piece of tarpauling may be used with great advantage for the purpose of making them water tight. A barrel sunk in the bed of the stream affords a convenient place into which to dip the sucker of the pump, or collect water. 113. Filters can be easily made by placing two barrels one within another, and ramming the place between with clean straw, coarse sand, and charcoal if it can be procured, or branches of trees with the bark taken off. The water is allowed to flow into the outer barrel and rises through holes pierced in the bottom of the inner barrel. In a standing camp, if the water is not good, charcoal should be made, and the water regularly filtered : an average of 1 gallon per head is sufficient for troops when encamped; if in standing camp, this allowance should be increased, as men should be encouraged to wash themselves as much as possible.

114. If the banks of the stream or pond are steep, they must be cut down so as to allow the animals to drink easily. If the soil is muddy, branches of trees, fascines, and stones should be let down to prevent the animals sinking in the mud. A horse, bullock, or mule drinks about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  gallons at a time, and takes about 2 minutes to drink, or, if unavoidable confusion be allowed for, about 3 minutes. The time requisite to water any number of animals may therefore be easily calculated by the number that can drink at one time is known. If many animals have to be watered, and the frontage is small, the hours at which each corps is to water should be laid down, to avoid unnecessary crowding.

115. An officer should invariably accompany all cavalry parties, and instructions should be given that each horse as soon as he has drunk should leave the water, and the party should fall in at a little distance clear of the next comers.

116. If the animals have to be watered at a very shallow stream, it should be deepened, either by making dams or by excavating the bottom; animals drink more rapidly when the water is from 4 to 5 inches deep than if it be shallower.

117. There are three kinds of pumps generally used for military purposes.

1. A small hand, lift and force, pump with flex-ible hose. This will draw water from 18 feet and throw it about 16 feet, working with a lift of 18 feet and a throw of 7 feet (the height of an ordinary water cart) ; it will yield 7 gallons per minute. 2. The Norton tube well. This consists of tubes driven into the ground with a monkey, and with a pump screwed on the top. One of these wells takes about 3 hours to fix it; it will yield about 7 gallons per minute, and will keep three horses drinking at one time. These pumps are very useful in searching for water.

3. The "Bastier Pump" is a pump with an endless chain, working over a wheel; it yields from a depth of 45 feet (worked with two men), 2,200 gallons per hour.

118. If the water supply is from wells, troughs should be provided for the animals to drink out of These may be made by simply excavating the ground and roughly paving it with stones, or they may be made of wood or sheet iron if it can be procured.

LATRINES.

119. Latrines should be made by fatigue parties as soon as the troops arrive on the ground, the places having been previously marked out for them by the quarter-masters of corps and battalions. The trench should be made as narrow as possible, and about four feet deep, a rail or post supported upon forked posts at both ends, and about eighteen inches from the ground, laid along the edge, will serve for the men to sit on, and the whole should be screened with bushes, trees, or lumber from public view.

120. A fatigue party should throw a couple of inches of earth over the soil every day. This, if carefully done, will prevent all smell. 121. When the trench is filled up, another one should be dug near it.

122. The camp police and sentries should have orders to prevent the men from committing nuisances in the vicinity of the camp.

CAMP POLICE.

123. At every camp of exercise, a certain number of men are to be detailed as a military police force, the strength of which will vary at the discretion of the officer commanding the troops encamped, ac-cording to circumstances. The military police to consist partly of infantry and partly of cavalry, who will, at stated times and in rotation, patrol in the vicinity of the camps, for the preservation of good order, and to suppress all irregularity of conduct on the part of the troops. The men detailed for duty as military policemen, should wear a piece of white cotton or linen fastened on the right arm above the elbow, or some such distinguishing badge, and officers and men of all corps attending camps of exercise should be warned to obey their orders, and to afford them every support.

124. At divisional camps of exercise, the military police will be under the orders of the Assistant Adjutant-General.

125. At brigade camps, under the Brigade-Major, and at all camps, a Non-commissioned Officer will be appointed by the officer commanding to act as Provost-Serjeant.

126. In cases where camps are formed in the vicinity of towns or villages, should the civil authorities require any support to the civil force during the period such camps are in operation, the assistance or co-operation asked for is to be promptly afforded by the officer commanding.

DUTIES IN CAMP.

127. The ordinary routine duties to be observed in these camps of exercise will be such, modified by circumstances, as would be observed by Her Majesty's regular troops under similar circumstances as laid down by Regulations.

128. One gun will be fired by the field battery at day-break, immediately after which the Reveille will be played by bands or corps of drums and fifes belonging to battalions appointed daily for this duty in succession ; and at sunset another gun will be fired, when the Retreat will be sounded in the same manner as detailed above. As a general rule the breakfast hour will be at 8 a.m., dinner at 1 p.m., and the evening meal at 6 p.m. Tattoo will be sounded at half-past nine, when the reports will be collected and handed to the field officer of the day by orderly officers of battalions and corps ; and at ten o'clock the bugle will sound for lights to be extinguished ; the troops during the period of exercise ; he will after which no one will be allowed out of camp see that officers understand and carry out the except passed by authority, and all officers and men are to sleep in Camp.

129. There will be a field officer and medical officer of the day appointed daily in Brigade Orders, and in ddition to the supply officer, they will form the Board of Inspection and Examination as to the quality of the provisions supplied by the contractors for issue to the troops. The decision of the officers composing this Board will be final as to the rejection or otherwise of the daily rations; and when such are passed, no complaints will afterwards be admitted as to quality. This Board will assemble at the time of the delivery of the Provisions in Camp, and the officers composing it are to be very punctual in their attendance at the proper hour, in order that the troops may obtain their provision supplies without unnecessary delay.

DISTRIBUTION OF RATIONS.

130. Simultuneously with the assembly of the above Board of Examination, the Quarter Masters, and Quarter Master Sergeants of Corps, accompanied by the Orderly Corporals of Troops, Companies or Ccrps, and one Orderly from each of the Troop and Company Messes, will attend at the place appointed for the receipt and issue of Rations, and after Quarter Masters have received over from the Supply Officer, in bulk, the quantity of provisions their respective Corps are entitled to, they will dis-tribute to the Orderly Corporals of Troops, Companies and Corps, the quantities such Corps have to receive, when the same will be sub-divided into the proper proportion for each Mess by the Orderly Corporals.

133. The Assistant Quarter Master General at Division Camps, and the Camp Quarter Master at Brigade Camps, will issue to, and take over from, the various corps, all articles of camp equipage. They will issue daily the ball ammunition required for target practice by the Companies and Corps detailed, also blank ammunition when required for field days, and they will exercise a general supervision over the cleanliness of the camp. One tent will be allowed for every ten men, and one noncommissioned officer will be placed in charge of snch men. One tent will be allowed to every Regimental Field Officer, and one tent for the Company officers, one tent to each Surgeon, and another tent as the Regimental Hospital tent, one tent as Commissariat Store when no better place for storage can be obtained, one guard tent to every Battalion, one tent will be allowed to each of the Staff Officers and one marquee tent to every Battalion and Regiment for the officers mess.

135. It will be the duty of Brigade Majorsto keep the roster of all Brigade duties and to issue daily to the Adjutants of Corps the Orders for the following day, and Adjutants are to attend at the Brigade Major's tent at the hour appointed to receive such orders.

136. The Orderly Officer will perform such duties as the Deputy Adjutant General of the Officer Commanding the Brigade may direct.

137. It will be the duty of Adjutants to keep the Officers' roster of duty for their respective Corps, and to promulgate under instructions from their Commanding Officers the necessary orders; the Sergeant Major will give out the orders of the day to Orderly Sergeants of Troops, Companies and Corps, and keep the non-commissioned officers duty roster.

138. There will be an Inlying Piquet told off daily from every Corps in Camp, whose duty it will be, under the Officer Commanding the Brigade and Field Officer of the day, to patrol in the vicinity of the Camp or in such other places as may be directed, for the purpose of supporting the camp police if necessary, checking any irregularities on the part of any men belonging to their own Corps, and bring-ing back any unauthorized absentees to Camp, but except under urgent and unavoidable circumstances, the piquet of one corps will not interfere with men of another.

139. Officers Commanding Brigade Camps will take care that the number of men detailed daily for guard and sentries, also for Regimental duties, do not exceed the usual number authorized by the Queen's Regulations and the customs observed in the Regular Army.

DISCIPLINE.

143. Unless strict discipline be observed men cannot be formed into an effective military bodygood discipline is acquired by a constant and habitual obedience to orders without murmur and without question-the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of all corps are reminded of this and they should bear in mind that during the period of Annual Drill they are for purposes of Mili-tary discipline under the Queen's Regulations and Articles of War the same as if employed on actual service as defined in the militia act of the Domin-ion.

144. Commanding officers of corps in dealing with any cases of irregularity which may occur, are in all first offences not of a serious or aggravated nature to have recourse to admonition, but on repetition of offence the minor punishment authorized should be enforced according to the nature and degree of the offence, every repetition of an act of drunkenness will be visited by the stoppage of one day's pay, and the confinement to Camp of the Offenders at the discretion of the Commanding Officer, and with a view to the prevention of irregularities, every effort should be made by Commanding, and all other officers, to stop the introduction of all spirituous and intoxicating liquors into Camp, for it may generally be relied on that when drunkenness can be prevented there will be no crime.

145. In the event of any man being found with spirituous liquor in his possession while in Camp, or bringing the same into Camp, the liquor is to be immediately thrown away, and the man should be punished by his Commanding Officer.

146. The minor punishments that may be awarded by Commanding Officersare confinement to the Camp for any period not exceeding 14 days, and stoppage of pay accompanied by confinement to camp for repeated drunkenness. Men awarded punishment of confinement to Camp by their Commanding Officers will not be allowed beyond the precincts of the Camp (except on duty), during the precision of confinement to Camp awarded, and they will in addition to taking their own share of Brigade and Regimental duty, be employed as an extra duty, under the direction of the Camp Quarter Master, in preserving the cleanliness of the Camp.

To entitle a company or corps to compete for and receive the above prizes, not less than 3 of its establishment or authorized strength must be present at the time and perform the prescribed annual drill and target practice (the men to be bona fide enrolled members of the same according to the Militia Act) their names being duly registered in the company target returns. To entitle a battalion or brigade of artillery to receive the battalion prize, all its companies or batteries must have been exercised, and have established a figure of merit, as laid down, and with the strength as mentioned above, at the prescribed course of target practice at the annual drill. The above prizes for good shooting will only be open to the non-commissioned officers and men of the Active Militia, and officers are not to practise during the annual course prescribed for the non-commissioned officers and men. It is directed that the target shall be 4 feet wide at 200 yards, bulls-eye 8 inches square, and two feet centre; at 400 and 600 yards, 6 feet wide, with a bulls-eye 2 feet square and a centre 4 feet square. Bulls-eye to count 4, Centre 3, and an Outer 2, at all ranges. Position when firing shall be, standing at 200, kneeling at 400, and any position at 600 yards, but without artificial rests.

150. The figures of merit for a company, battalion or district, will be obtained by dividing the total number of points obtained at the three ranges,-200, 400, and 600 yards—by the number of men actually firing, and carrying out the quotient to two places of decimals.

151. The best shot in the company, battalion, district, and Dominion, will be that man who obtains the greatest number of points at the three distances, viz.: 200, 400, and 600 yards.

152. Ties will be decided by the greatest number of points obtained at 600 yards ; if still a tie, by the greatest numder at 400 yards; if still a tie, by the greatest number at 200 yards ; if still a tie, by the inverse order of shots counting backwards from 600 yards. And to decide ties for the Adjutant 148. To the best shot in every Company or Corps, "General's prize, the score of each shot made by district prize winners, will be furnlshed in detail by Deputy Adjutants General to head quarters.

153. The prescribed course of Target Practice will be performed by the different Companies, under the command of the Captains, who will keep and sign the register of each man's performance, certifying the same as correct.

154. At the conclusion of the training the Register of Target Practice will be sent by the Brigade Musketry Instructor to Brigade Majors, who will make out District Returns from the Company Returns and fo.ward them to the Deputy Adjutants General, for transmission to Head Quarters.

155. The greatest possible accuracy must be observed in keeping the Registers, as on these depend the selection of individuals for the Annual Prizes.

156. As a general rule, there should be two markers in each butt, one N. C. O., and one man of a different Company to the one firing—and a Bugler at the firing point.

157. The Musketry Instructor will be on the ground during the time each Company is firing its course, to see that the course is conducted according to Regulation.

158. To prevent accidents occuring, the following rule is to be strictly observed.

The squad will form up ten paces in rear of the firing points, "ground arms," and retire six paces in rear of the arms, which are not to be taken up except by word of command. The squad commander will remain at the firing stake, and call up each man successively who will fire his five rounds in succession, and then rejoin his squad, his score having first been read to him. The squad commander will be careful to caution his man as to the target he is to fire at, and see that he is aiming at it, and that no shot is fired until the flag or disc is entirely down. No loading to be permitted except at the firing stake. No one but the squad commander or scorer is to be permitted within ten paces of the firing point.

FIELD EXERCISE AND EVOLUTIONS.

159. As a general rule, when not otherwise directel by officers commanding at Camps of Exercise there will be three daily parades for drill for all companies and corps of infantry, not engaged at larget practice, at the following hours, viz. :---

160. At 6 a.m., for company drill under captains or officers commanding companies, superintended by the field officers; at 10 a.m., for battalion drill under commanding officers of battalions and at 3 p. m. or such other times as the Deputy Adjutant General, or senior officer commanding may direct for brigade drill and exercise.

161. At the morning parades for company drill, under captains or officers commanding companies, the movements and exercises contained in part II. of the Infantry Field Exercise Book (latest edition), will be practised from pages 58 to 101, and especial care will be taken to instruct each company in the mode of skirmishing as laid down at page 91 to 101, every company officer will also be practised at these morning parades in the mode of sizing, forming and telling off a company, also in the proper mode of inspecting a company, and in the manual and platoon exercise ; the men will be instructed in the manual exercise prescribed for the short rifle, except as regards the mode of fixing and unfixing bayonets, in which instance the directions laid down for the long rifle will be followed. All orders contained in the Field Exercise for the guidance of troops carrying the short rifle, are applicable to men although armed with the long rifle, and whilst performing the platoon exercise, both officers and men are to be instructed in position and aiming drill, as laid down in the book of Rifle Exercises and Musketry Instruction at page 176 to 185. Officers and men will also be practised in the mode of mounting and reliving guard, in marching reliefs, in posting and reliving sentries, in challenging at night, in receiving grand or visiting rounds, and in paying the proper compliments, and the non-commissioned officers and men will be instructed in the mode of saluting, as laid down in section 6, part I., page 14, of the Field Exercise. It is not necessary that the men should be instructed in the slow step.

162. At the parades for battalion drill, the Field Officers and Adjutants will be mounted, and the companies equalized. The strength of each company when formed for drill purposes to be not less than twenty files. Battalions will be practised in the mode of firing, prescribed at page 106 of the Infantry Field Exercise Book, when the battalion is in line at close order, in forming advanced and rear guards, and in skirmishing as directed at page 205 to 224; they will also be practised in the few simple movements required from Infantry when in action as laid down in the Field Exercise Book.

163. Whenever the brigades parade for field manœuvres, the whole of the corps will attend (the necessary guards and one cook per troop or company only being left in camp). At these parades the troops will be drawn up in such manner as the officer commanding may direct, and if circumstances admit should then move off a short distance from camp in column of route, throwing out advanced, flank and rear guards, moving always as if in the close vicinity or actual presence of an enemy, de-ploying from time to time as circumstances and the nature of the ground may suggest into a line of battle, each arm of the service being posted so as to afford mutual support. The usual positions for field artillery when moving with a brigade is laid down at page 278 of the Iufantry Field Exercise Book, and the principles upon which these manœuvres should be conducted in contradistinction to mere drill, is explained at page 279.

164. The established rule relative to the employment of Horse and Field Artillery, when manœuvring directs that officers commanding divisions or detached brigades, should indicate to the officer commanding artillery under their orders, the general object of the movements about to be executed, and these officers should give directions to the captains of Batteries, as to the best mode of co-operating with and supporting them.

Officers commanding batteries should be permitted (under the direction of their own commanding officers), to use their own judgment in selecting the best positions to enable them to operate with advantage either in covering an attack or retreat, conforming of course as much as the nature of the ground will permit, with the movements of the corps to which they are attached.

Any special directions received by the Officer commanding Artillery, from the Officer in command of troops, relative to any change in the disposition of the batteries during the movements, will of course be promptly carried out.

A battery onght not to be exposed to the risks of infantry fire, unless under unavoidable circum stances which occasionally occur in action.

165. The brigades should be practised in taking up tions, and in retiring as if in presence of a superior force, in regular military order, from one position to another, the various arms supporting, covering, and relieving one another in retreat. Whenever circumstances will admit the troops should be exercised, whilst taking up positions for defence, in creating artifical where nonatural cover is available, by constructing shelter trenches, for the infantay in the manner laid down in the Field Exercise Book, and in throw-ing up breastworks to protect the field batteries. Very valuable practice may also be afforded on these field days by dividing brigades into two forces, under commanders previously named in brigade orders, one side to act on the offensive, and the other on the defensive. The officer commanding the Division with suitable Staff Officers, acting as Umpires. The troops on these occasions being supplied with blank ammunition. By carrying out properly the above system of practical field days, and sham battles, officers and men are best instructed in their duties, and their military intelligence becomes greatly developed.

CAVALRY.

166. The drill for all troops of cavalry and mounted corps, when such are not required for brigade exer cise, will be carried out regimentally by the officers commanding, and the mode of forming advanced and rear guards practised as laid down in the cavalry regulations; also the mode of extending as mounted skirmishers, and in firing with blank ammunition when mounted, whenever circumstances will admit.

The necessary instruction for cavalry corps is detailed in the Cavalry Drill Book of 1st August, 1869, and in addition to the introductory remarks contained in that code of instruction, particular attention will be paid to sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, comprising military equitation.

FIELD ARTILLERY.

167. Whenever possible, the Annual Shot and Shell Practice of Batteries of Field Artillery will be carried on during the time the Battery is in Camp; if there is no available range, or if the firing of shell would be attended with danger, the practice will be deferred till a suitable range can be obtained.

168. Requisitions for Ammunition and all other stores necessary to complete the equipment will be forwarded by Officers Commanding batteries prior to the commencement of the Drill Season.

169. No annual training of a Field Battery will be considered effective unless during that time at least one march of twenty (20) miles, or thereabouts, has been made, with limbers and waggons properly packed, all entrenching tools, camp equipage, small arms, &c., strapped in their places; on these occasions officers commanding will mount their Detachments when the state of the roads admit of it.

170. During the period allotted to "Regimental Drill" in camp, officers commanding will select the most simple and useful of the movements laid positions for defence, or forming for purposes of down in the "Manual of field artillery exercises." attack, in the mode of attacking and carrying positions, and in retiring as if in presence of a superior force, in regular military order, from one position to another, the various arms supporting, covering, and relieving one another in retreat. Whenever circum-

> 171. Where facilities exist, officers commanding should practice those under their command in throwing up cover for guns in action, moving guns and horses over walls, ditches, ravines, small streams or other obstacles, and without adhering to strict rules, endeavour to stimulate the ingenuity and interest of all concerned.

> 172. On the conclusion of the training and return of Field Batteries to their respective Head Quarters, all harness, saddlery, carriages, waggons and small stores will be replaced in the sheds in a perfectly clean state and fit for immediate service; the drivers cleaning the harness, the gunners the guns and waggons. Officers commanding field batteries will be held responsible at any time when their batteries are suddenly ordered out, that the service ammunition and other necessary stores are complete and in good order.

> 173. Lieutenant-Colonel French, Inspector of Artillery and Warlike Stores, and Commandant of the School of Gunnery, "A" Battery, Kingston, will transmit to Head Quarters a detailed report on the Annual Inspection of all Artillery Corps in the Province of Ontario, and a special report on the School of Gunnery, "A" Battery, Kingston.

> 174. Lieut.-Colonel T. B. Strange, Inspector of Artillery for the Province of Quebec, and Commandant of the School of Gunnery, "B." Battery, Quebec, will transmit to Head Quarters a detailed report on the Annual Inspection of all Artillery Corps in the Province of Quebec, and a special report on the School of Gunnery, "B." Battery, Quebec.

> 175. Lieut.-Colonel Jago, New Brunswick Artillery, will make the Annual Regimental Inspection of all Artillery Corps in that Province, transmitting his report thereon to Head Quarters.

> 176. The Annual Regimental Reports of the Inspectors in that special arm of the service to be transmitted to the Adjutant General at Head Quarters not later than 1st November, 1872.

> 177. The annual drill of all corps for 1872-73 to be completed before 31st October, 1872, and the Annual Inspection Reports and Target Practice Returns of Corps transmitted by Deputy Adjutants General along with their own annual Reports to Head Quarters immediately after the inspection of the whole of the Corps in the respective Districts is concluded, to enable the Adjutant General to prepare his Annual Report on the state of the Militia in proper time for presentation to Parliament.

In Her Majesty's name, His Excellency the Governor General thanks her loyal subjects, accepts their benevolence, and assents to this Bill. After which His Excellency the Governor

After which His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to close the FIFIH SESSION of the FIRST PARLIAMENT of the DOMINION with the following

SPEECH :

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate :

Gentlemen of the House of Commons :

I have much satisfaction in relieving you from an attendance in Parliament which cannot fail to be inconvenient to many of you at this season of the year. I thank you therefore all the more for the time and attention which you have diligently bestowed on the discharge of your public duties.

The interest and importance of various questions which have been discussed and decided will render the Session memorable in the annals of the country.

Your adoption of the Articles of the Treaty of Washington which affect Canadian interests, has placed in a clear light your determination to share t'e fortunes of England. The generous disposition evinced under the trying circumstances of the time has added strength to the honorable position of Canada, both as regards the British Empire and the United States.

The vast project, of which you have so wisely matured the conditions for carrying a Railway to the shores of the Pacific, will open a new pathway for England as well in peace as in war, to the East, and will, I trust, be productive of the most essential benefits to this Dominion by giving facilities to traffic of all descriptions, enhancing the value of the public lands, promoting their settlement, and drawing closer the ties which bind the sister Provinces together by easier access and multiplied intercourse.

Few who have not considered the subject have any adequate conception how large an extent of economical advantage, the possession of great navigable Rivers like the St. Lawrence and its tributaries comprises. The outlay you have sanctioned on their improvement, and on that of the auxiliary canals, is a safe investment. It will be amply and speedily repaid by the augmented volume of trade flowing down all the channels opened to its course, for it will be swollen by the confluence of your own accumulating productions with those of your Western neighbours.

It is highly satisfactory that the condition of the revenue is so prosperous as to enable you to advance the interests of the Country by commencing the construction of these works at once, without delay or misgiving.

Gentlemen of The House of Commons .

In Her Majesty's name I thank you for the supplies which you have so cheerfully granted.

I heartily congratulate you on the prosperous condition of the revenue, and on your having been enabled by the repeal of the duties on tea and coffee to diminish the burdens of the people.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate,

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

The joint address with which you have honored me on the eve of my departure is most agreeable to my feelings.

I shall I assure you hold in grateful recollection all my life the expression of your respect and esteem.

I have watched with deep interest in my official capacity the proceedings of four Sessions, and made myself otherwise acquainted with the views and wishes of the Parliament and people of Canada, and I earnestly hope that the good intelligence which prevails between them and the people of England may last constant and unimpaired for generations to come.

I have now the honor to bid you farewell, with those serious thoughts which the word farewell naturally awakens, with every acknowledgement of the many courtesies and the effective assistance which I have received at your hands and with the most cherished and ardent wishes for the welfare of the Dominion, with which I rejoice to think that my humble name has been connected by an honourable tie for more than three years.

QU'IL PLAISE A VOTRE EXCELÉENCE :

Au nom des Communes je présente à Votre Excellence un bill intitulé: "Acte pour accorder à Sa "Majesté certaines sommes nécessaires pour subvenir "à certaines dépenses du service public, pour les "années fiscales expirant le trentième jour de juin "1872, et le trentième jour de juin 1873, et pour "d'autres objets liés au service public," que je prie humblement Votre Excellence de sanctionner.

DISCOURS suivant :

Honorubles Messieurs du Sénat,

Messieurs de la Chambre des Communes :

C'est avec beaucoup de plaisir que je vous décharge de vos travaux parlementaires, qui ne peuvent être qu'une source d'incenvénients pour plusieurs d'entre vous à cette époque de l'année. C'est pourquoi je vous remercie d'autant plus du temps et de l'attention que vous avez diligemment donnés à l'accomplissement de vos devoirs publics.

L'intérêt et l'importance des diverses questions qui ont été discutées et résolues, rendront la session mémorable dans les annales du pays.

Votre adhésion aux articles du traité de Washington affectant les inté êts canadiens a mis-au grand jour votre détermination de suivre la fortune de l'Angleterre. La disposition génereuse que vous avez montrée dans ces circonstances critiques a renforcé la position honorable du Canada, à la fois, par rapport à l'empire Britannique et aux Etats-Unis.

Le vaste projet dont vous avez si sagement mûri les conditions pour construire un chemin de fer jusqu'aux rives du Pacifique, ouvrira à l'Angleterre, en temps de guerré comme en temps de paix, une nouvelle voie de communication avec l'Orient, et produira, je l'espère, les avantages les plus importants pour la Puissance en facilitant le trafic dans toutes les branches, en augmentant la valeur des terres publiques et en favorisant leur établissement, et en resserrant davantage les lieus qui attachent les Sœurs Provinces ensemble par un accès plus facile et en multipliant les relations entre elles.

Bien peu de ceux qui n'ont pas soigneusement considéré le sujet, ont pu suffisamment concevoir l'étendue des avantages économiques découlant de la possession de grandes rivières navigables comme le St. Laurent et ses tributaires. Les crédits que vous avez ouverts pour leur amélioration et celle des canaux auxiliaires sont un placement sûr, qui sera amplement et promptement remboursé par l'accroissement du commerce descendant toutes les voies ouvertés à son cours, car il sera augmenté par l'accumulation de vos propres productions ainsi que de celles de vos voisins de l'Ouest.

Il est très-satisfaisant que l'état prospère du revenu vous permette de promouvoir les intérêts du pays, en commençant dès maintenant la construction de ces ouvrages sans retard ou sans crainte.

Messicurs de la Chambre des Communes.

Je vous remercie au nom de Sa Mijesté des subsides que vous avez si libéralement votés.

Je vous félicite de tout cœur de l'état prospère du Revenu et de ce que vous avez pu, par le rappel des droits sur le thé et le café, diminuer les charges du peuple.

Messsieurs de la Chambre des Communes.

L'adresse conjointe que vous m'avez fait l'honneur, de me présenter, à la veille de mon départ, me flatte des plus agréablement.

Je garderai toute ma vic, je vous l'assure, un souvenir reconnaissant de cette expression de votre respect et de votre estime.

En ma qualité officielle, j'ai suivi avec un profond intérêt les délibérations de quatre sessions, et sous d'autres rapports je me suis mis au courant des vues et des désirs du Parlement et du peuple du Canada, et j'espère bien fermement que la bonne intelligence qui règne entre eux et le peuple d'Angleterre ne s'altérera jamais.

J'ai présentement l'honneur de vous faire mes adieux, pénétré des pensées sérieuses que ce mot d'adieu éveille naturellement, et en reconnaissant de toute manière vos nombreux actes de courtoisie, et l'assistance effective que j'ai reçue de vous, et en formant les vœux les plus sincères et les plus ardents pour le bien-être de la Puissance, à laquelle je me réjouis de penser que mon humble nom a été attaché par un lien honorable durant plus de trois années.

Dans les camps d'exercice de brigade et de batuillon les arrangements médicaux se feront régimentairement.

22. Pour faire le service dans l'étât major des divisions comme brigadiers, assistants adjudants généraux et assistants quartier-maîtres généraux, on choisira des officiers d'état major; les majors de brigade seront pris parmi les capitaines; les officiers d'ordonnance parmi les subalternes actifs et intelligents. Tout capitaine possédant un grade titulaire supérieur, pourra être nommé temporairement pour remplir les devoirs ci-dessus d'officiers d'état major dans les camps d'exercice.

SOLDE ET ALLOCATION.

23. Tous les officiers, sous-officiers et soldats qui appartiennent à des corps de la milice active et qui ont reçu ordre de joindre les camps pour une période de seize jours continus d'exercice, recevront leur solde complète de chaque jour d'après leurs grades respectifs, et des rations leurs seront fournies gratis.

Les officiers qui devront servir temporairement dans un corps avec un grade plus élevé que leur grade actuel ne recevront que la solde de leur grade actuel.

ARTILLERIE.

La solde des sous-officiers et soldats de l'artillerie sera la même que celle donnée pour les Batteries "A" et "B" (Ecoles d'Artillerie de Kingston et de Québec), savoir :

Sergent major de brigade ou de batterie$1 00
Sergent
Caporal
Bombardier. 0.60
Canonnier, Conducteur ou Trompette 0.50

24. Il ne sera pas alloué un plus grand nombre d'officiers et de sous-officiers que le nombre autorisé pour former l'effectif des compagnies, troupes, bataillons ou corps de milice.

A l'exception des cas spéciaux où il aura été permis d'employer un plus grand nombre d'officiers et de soldats, la force des différents corps de milice active sera comme suit :

Dans chaque troupe de cavalerie, batterie d'artillerie de place, compagnie d'ingénieurs, ou de carabiniers ou d'infanterie—il y aura, suivant son service respectif, un capitaine, un lieutenant, un cornette, un 2nd lieutenant ou enseigne—3 sergents, 3 caporaux, 1 trompette ou clairon et pas plus de 48 soldats, si ce n'est dans le cas où un plus grand nombre de soldats aura été spécialement autorisé.

Dans chaque batterie d'artillerie de campagne il y aura un capitaine, deux premiers lieutenants, un second lieutenant, un sergent major, quatre sergents, quatre caporaux, quatre bombardiers, un trompette, un maréchal et 59 canoniers et conducteurs, y compris les hommes de roues, le bourrelier, et le maréchal ferrant; 51 chevaux, non compris les chevaux des officiers et quatre chevaux de rechange.

Les compagnies qui, à l'époque des exercices annuels au camp, seront trop faibles en nombre, seront considérées comme non effectives, et leur personnel sera attaché à d'autres compagnies ou corps.

Tous les officiers, n'appartenant point à l'état major permanent, à l'exception des officiers des vivres nommés pour faire le service temporairement dans l'état major des brig des et des divisions aux camps d'exercice, recevront, en sus de la solde quotidienne accortée d'après leurs grades respectifs, une allocation de deux plastres par jour avec rations pour eux et pour un cheval chacun, le temps qu'ils seront employés dans les camps d'exercice, et de plus une plastre par jour pour chaque cheval, pourvu que le cheval amené au camp soit propre au service, mais dans aucun cas, excepté sur autorisation speciale, ils ne recevront pas plus que seize jours de solde et d'allocation

Les officiers des vivres, aux camps d'exercice quelque soient leurs grades, recevront une somme de $5 par jour tout le temps qu'ils seront employés comme tels, avec rations pour eux et pour un cheval chacun, ce qui devra couvrir toutes les reclamations qu'ils pourraient faire pour solde et allocations.

Les officiers de l'état-major permanent de la milice, lorsqu'ils occuperont un poste per interim aux exercices annuels en campement, recevront une allocation de deux piastres par jour avec rations pour eux et pour un cheval chacun, et aussi l'allocation accordée pour les chevaux employés au camp, mais leur salaire ordinaire ne sera pas augmenté.

Les sous-officiers nommés pour faire le service de sergents d'état-major aux différents camps d'exercice recevront, en sus de la solde relative à leurs grades dans les corps de milice auxquels ils appartiennent, 20 cents pur jour avec rations à compter du jour où ils auront été mis en devoir jusqu'à celui où ils auront été déchargés.

25. Dans le cas où des corps de milice auront reçu ordre de faire leurs exercices annuels à leurs quartiers généraux, de la manière et à l'époque qui leur conviendraient le mieux, les officiers et les hommes ne recevront que la paie autorisée pour les exercices, tel que pourvu par les Règlements de 1870-71 relatifs aux corps de milice qui font leurs exercices annuels à leurs quartiers généraux; et il ne leur sera fourpi aucune ration.

RATIONS.

Les rations journalières pour chaque officier, sousofficier et soldat seront fournies d'après l'échelle suivante aux camps d'exercice :---

$1\frac{1}{2}$	livre (	le pain,
1	$6 C	le viande,
1		le pommes de terre
	onces	de sucre,
01	66	de café,
01	66	de thé,
01	"	de sel,
$\frac{1}{36}$	66	de poivre,
$\mathbf{\tilde{2}}$	66	de fromage,
1	66	orge perlé.

* La solde et les rations seront accordées aux officiers, sous-officiers et soldats pour le jour ou les jours seulement qu'ils auront réellement passés dans le camp

Les tentes, les couvertes, le bois pour la cuisine, seront fournis à tous les corps qui fréquenteront les camps organisés pour les seize jours continus d'exercices et de manœuvre.

Il sera alloué une piastre par jour, comme allocation pour chevaux, aux officiers de l'état-major et-aux officiers à cheval de l'infanterie, de même qu'aux officiers, sous-officiers et soldats des corps à cheval, pour uu cheval chacun, et aussi pour chaque cheval attaché aux batteries d'artillerie de campagne, mais cette allocation ne sera accordée seulement que pour le jour ou les jours où ces chevaux auront été requis, avec certificat qu'ils ont été nécessaires et réellement présents aux exercices à aucun des camps. Le fourrage pour ces chevaux sera aussi fourni, aux camps organisés pour les seize jours continus d'exercice, de l'espèce et en quantité comme suit: 10 livres d'avoine et 18 livres de foin.

27. Chaque troupe, compagnie ou corps, qui assistera aux camps de brigade apportera avec lui ses marmites, sa ferblanterie ou ustensiles de cuisine, et pour ces articles, il sera accordée une allocation de $6 pour chaque troupe ou compagnie qui aura réellement fait l'exercice en campement; cette somme pourra être portée à la fin du rôle des reçus avec certificat de l'officier commandant, au bas du rôle, que ces articles ont été fournis par la troupe, la compagnie ou le corps; et à la levée du camp, les quartiers-maîtres de bataillons ou les officiers commandants des corps prendront la charge ou le soin des marmites du camp.

28. Le jour du rassemblement, les officiers d'étatmajor assisteront à l'arrivée des différents corps au lieu du campement, pour leur montrer où et comment ils devront camper; ce qui devra se faire conformément au plan prescrit dan-les paragraphes 230 à 250 des "Réglements et Ordres pour la milice active," en autant que le pourront permettre les circonstances et la nature du terrain. Chaque corps, à son arrivée, remettra immédiatement aux officiers d'état-major un état ou retour de route.

29. Les équipages de camp seront délivrés aux camps de division, sous la surveillance de l'assistant quartier-maître de la division : aux camps de brigade, par le quartier-maître de camp; ces officiers, à la levée du camp reprendront ces articles de tous les corps, et tout dommage fait aux articles de camp ou la perte d'aucun d'eux, sera estimé et la valeur déduite de la solde des hommes avant que le corps laisse le camp.

Les officiers commandant des troupes, des compagnies et des corps auront soin tout particulièrement de taire connaître cela à tous ceux qui seront scus leur commandement.

30. Tous les corps d'infanterie devront passer quatorze jours complets en campement : à ces corps il sera alloué une journée pour se rendre au camp, et une autre journée pour en revenir, c- qui fera en tout une période de seize jours, durant laquelle tous les officiers, sous-officiers et soldats seront gouvernés par les règles militaires et sujets aux règlements de la Reine et aux articles de guerre, tel que défini par l'acte de milice de la Puissance.

TRANSPORT.

31. Les arrangements locaux pour le transport de tous les corps, soit pour se rendre aux camps d'exercice soit pour en revenir par chemin de fer ou bateau à vapeur, se feront par les députés adjudants généraux qui commandent les districts militaires. Le transport des corps de milice devra se faire sur les lignes des compagnies de chemin de fer et de bateau à vapeur dont les soumissions pour ce service, auront été approu ées aux quartiers généraux.

32. Comme les compagnies ou corps qui résident le long des lignes de chemin de fer ou sur la route de bateaux à vapeur, devront passer par ces lignes ou routes en se rendant aux camps ou en revenant, les comptes se trouveraient beaucoup simplifiés si les maîtres ou agents à ces stations, consentaient à passer les officiers et les hommes sur un ordre écrit du capitaine de la compagnie ou de l'officier commandant le bataillon ou le corps. Après la levée du camp, le député adjudant général devra remplacer ces ordres écrits par des réquisitions spéciales, à l'effet de couvrir ces dépenses, et qu'il enverra avec son compte comme pièce justificatives;

33. Les comptes pour transport dans tout district devront être d'abord envoyés au député adjudant général du district pour être examinés et certifiés, avant d'être transmis aux quartiers généraux pour paiement.

Dans le cas où la même compagnie de chemin de fer ou de bateau à vapeur transportera les troupes de différents districts militaires, le compte pour ce transport devra être fait séparément pour chaque district militaire afin d'en rendre plus aise l'exemen.

Tout transport devra être porté dans le compte à tant par mille, au taux spécifié dans le contrat, et le compte devra comporter une colonne où sera mentionné le nombre de milles parcourus par chaque personne.

34. Lorsque tout le voyage ne peut pas se fai e par chemin de fer ou par eau et que la distance a camp est plus de trois milles, il sera alloué pour le transport, six cents pour chaque officier et trois cents pour chaque sous-officier et soldat pur mille néce-sairement parcouru pour se rendre au camp et en revenir, ce montant devra être ajouté sur le bordereau de la compagnie et payé au capitaine avant de lai-ser le camp.

camp. 35. Les officiers commandant des compagnies ou corps d'infanterie devront avoir soin et exiger que chaque homme se munisse lui-même, avant son dépurt, d'une quantité de rations cuites, suffisante pour le jour ou les jours passés à se endre au camp, et pour cela les officiers et les hommes recevron chacun la somme de 25 cents par jour pour le temps qu'ils auront mis à se rendre au camp.

36. Autant que los circonstinces le permettront, les compagnies et les bataillons d'infanterie dont les quartiers généraux ne sont pas à plus d'une journée de marche du camp d'exercice devraient tâcher de faire le trajet à pied, aller et revenir—quinze ou seize milles sont considérés comme une journée de marche pour un corps d'infanteric.

37. Les troupes de covalerie et les batternes d'artillerie de campagne dont les quartiers généraux sont à deux ou trois jours de marche du camp d'exercice du district, devraient pareillement s'efforcer de faire cette marche, aller et revenir; pour cela il sera alloué une piastre par jour pour chaque homme, le temps que l'on mettra à se rendre au camp et en revenir. Cette somme devra couvrir toutes dépenses le long de la route pour la subsistance et le logement des hommes et des chevaux. Dans ces cas aucune allocation au lieu de transport ne sera accordée.

38. Pendant les grandes chaleurs, les officiers commandants des corps, auront soin de profiter des heures du matin et du soir pour le temps de la marche, et de choisir, pour faire halte sur le haut du jour, des endroits à l'ombre.

UNIFORME ET EQUIPEMENT.

39. Les officiers, pendant qu'ils fréquenteront les camps d'exercice, seront tenus seulement de porter la petite tenue de leurs corps de milice respectifs.

40. Les officiers et les hommes à cheval devront amener avec eux, aux camps, des chevaux d'une description convenable.

41. Les officiers comman lant des corps devront voir à ce que les hommes sous leur commandement, soient munis de tout ce qui leur sera nécessaire pour les seize jours qu'ils seront en service. Chaque homme devra venir au camp en tenue de route, pourvu d'une capote, d'une rechange de chemise et de chaussons, d'une assiette de fer blanc, d'un gobelet, d'un bidon, d'un havresac, d'un couteau, d'une serviette, savon, etc.; et les cheveux devront, avant l'arrivée au camp, avoir été coupés militairement.

42. Les officiers qui commandent des corps d'infanterie, prendront tout particulièrement soin de vour à ce que les hommes soient pourvus de bottes convenables pour la marche, et ces bottes devront avoir la semelle large, le talon bas et leur faire aisément. Les officiers et les hommes pourront avoir pour leur bonnet de police (forage caps) une couverture blanche à la discrétion des commandants des corps, pourvu cependant qu'il y ait uniformité dans le corps où cela sera en usage 43. Les officiers commandant des corps d'infanterie seront tenus responsables de voir à ce que chaque compignie emporte avec elle au camp, les ustensiles nécessaires de cuisine, de même qu'une bêche, une pioche à deux pointes, une hache, et pour chaque dix hommes un sceau et un bassin.

RÈGLEMENTS CONGERNANT LA PAIE POUR LA CONDUITE DES BATAILLONS.

44. Chaque bat illon et bataillon provisoire sera pourvu d'un payeur régulièrement nommé ou officier tenant lieu de payeur, lequel sera responsable de l'exécution correcte et ponctuelle des devoirs qui lui seront prescrits.

45 Dès que les corps de milice seront rassemblés dans le camp, les payeurs de bataillon prépareront fidèlement un rôle nominal et numérique des officiers, sous-officiers et soldats de leur corps, avec une colonne de remarques pour y noter lorsqu'un homme est devenu ineffectif. Une copie de ce rôle, avec un extrait montrant la force actuelle du corps ou bataillon qui est dans le camp, doivent être envoyés, par l'entremise de l'officier commandant, au payeur du district, accompagnés d'une estimation—sur des blancs qui seront fournis—du montant d'argent requis pour le temps des exercices.

46. Il sera aussi du devoir des payeurs de bataillon de voir à ce que les rôles de reçus que leur remettront les capitaines de compagnie soient dûment signés et portent la véritable signeture de chaque homme de la milice active. Les officiers, sous officiers et soldats de lu milice active seront payés seulement pour le jour ou les jours où ils auront réellement été présents, et en devour avec leur corps dans le camp.

47 Les officiers commandants des corps et les payeurs seront tenus responsables du complétement des rôles de reçus, ainsi que des comptes pour les marmites de camp et l'allocation spéciale pour transport, lesquels devront être autorisés, dûment signés et examinés au moins deux jours avant la levée du camp.

48. Le paiement pour les exercices annuels sera fait aux capitaines des compagnies, en la présence du payeur du bataillon, par le payeur du district qui sera présent au camp, avec l'argent, au moins une journée avant la levée du camp; par ce moyen les hommes pourront être payés et soldés avant de s'en retourner.

49. Tous les officiers, sous-officiers et soldats seront payés avant de laisser le camp, et les sous officiers et soldats qui auront gagné des prix donnés en argent par le gouvernement, pourront pareillement et en même temps être payés, sur le certificat de l'instructeur de mousqueterie, contre-signé par l'officier commandant du corps, et approuvé par l'officier commandant du camp.

50. Personne, sous aucun prétexte, ne pourra recevoir la solde d'officier, si elle n'a pas été régulièrement gazettée comme officier, et nommée pour faire le service dans un bataillon ou corps ou dans l'état major de la milice; et personne aussi ne pourra recevoir la solde du sous-officier ou du soldat à moins d'avoir été régulièrement enrolée dans un corps de la milice active, et avoir son nom entré sur le rôle de service de tel corps. Aucune paie ne sera accordée pour un grade titulaire quelqu'il soit.

51. Toute dépense ayant rapport aux camps, en dehors de celles pourvues pour les services mentionnés ici, ne pourra ètre sanctionnée à moins d'en avoir obtenu autorité d'avance.

52. Pendant les exercices annuels, il y aura une parade-revue de cha jue corps et de chaque bataillon de la milice active, en présence du député adjudant général ou de l'officier commandant du district, et du payeur du district, à laquelle seront présents tous les officiers, sous officiers et soldats ainsi que les chevaux appartenant au corps de milice. Les officiers commandant des troupes de cavalerie ou des batteries apporteront avec eux à cette parade, les rôles de service de leurs compagnies Le payeur régimentaire fera l'appel du corps en revue, et les rôles de service des troupes, batteries et compagnies seront vérifiés, en même temps par le payeur du district en présence du député adjudant général ou de l'officier commandant le district.

Ne seront payés que les officiers, sous-officiers, soldats et chevaux qui auront *été présents à cette parade revue ou qui se trouvaient en devoir au temps de l'appel.

Les officiers et les sergents d'état-major nommés pour faire temporairement le service dans l'état-major aux camps d'exercice, seront passés en revue et payés d'après un bordereau à part par le payeur du district.

RÈGLEMENTS POUR LES APPROVISIONE-MENTS.

53. Dès que la formation d'un camp d'exercice aura été autorisée en vertu des règlements ci-dessus, le député adjudant-général du district, où doit se former ce camp de brigade, demandera des soumissions de la part des marchands de la localité par un avis inséré dans un journal du lieu, et en faisant poser des affiches, avant la date du rassemblement dans le camp pour fournir les vivres, le bois, le fourrage et la paille, nécessaires pour tout le temps du campement. Immé iatement après la levée du comp, il devra préparer ses comptes pour tout ce qu'il aura reçu et délivré, et certifiera les comptes des contracteurs en conséquence,-il devra aussi envoyer par l'entremise de l'officier commandant le camp, pour le payeur du district, un extrait des effets reçus et délivrés avec l'original des rapports et requisitions pour rations comme pièces justificatives pour le paiement des comptes.

55. Les retours pour les rations nécessaires aux différents corps se feront tous les jours, sur des formules ou blancs fournis par le département.

59. Les troupes, les batteries et les compagnies suivront la même formalité, et les rapports pour rations fournis au quartier-maître par les différentes compagnies en bataillon, serviront de base pour sa demande à l'officier de distribution pour les rations en gros, nécessaires au bataillon pendant la journée. L'exactitude de ces rapports No. 176, pourra être vérifiée sur l'état de parade journalier No. 164, du corps ou du bataillon, et si un corps se faisait donner plus de ration qu'il ne lui en faut, il lui en serait tenu compte.

71. Le bois de chauffage devra être de bonne qualité, sain, sec et fendu d'une manière raisonnable, il devra aussi avoir été coupé pendant l'hiver précédant sa livraison. Les grosses buches avec des nœuds projetés, ou tortueuses, les bois de grève ou tout autre bois qui paraîtra avoir séjourné dans l'eau, ne seront pas reçus.

pas reçus. 72. Les contracteurs livreront le bois au camp au temps qui leur sera fixé, et le pileront d'une corde de haut pour être examiné et mesuré.

73. La ration de bois de chauffage pour livraison consistera en un pouce, mesure courante. Pour l'ordinaire des officiers (mess), au nombre de 8 ou plus, 12 rations par jour. Pour l'ordinaire des officiers,  $1\frac{1}{2}$ ration chacun par jour. Les sous-officiers et soldats, allocation par la cuisine, le  $\frac{1}{4}$  d'une ration, chacun, ou une ration pour 7 hommes.

FOURRAGE.

74. Le fourrage devra être de la meilleure qualité, sec et net. L'avoine ne devra pas peser moins de 36 livres, par minot ou 34 livres par boisseau. Le foin devra être net et bon, sans chardons ni mauvaises herbes.

75. Le contracteur livrera le fourage à ses propres frais, au dépôt de fourrage dans le camp, et au temps qui lui sera fixé par l'officier des vivres. Il y maintiendra en réserve une quantité égale de fourrage à ce qu'il en faudra pour la dépense des chevaux dans le camp pendant une semaine. A ce dépôt, il devra aussi garder un agent pour livrer, sur des chèques ou ordres de l'officier des vivres, le fourrage lors qu'il en sera nécessaire.

76. Le fourrage sera calculé et livré par rations qui consisteront en 10 livres d'avoine et 18 livres de foin. Le fourrage extra, dont on pourra avoir besoin, en sus des rations, sera calculé par 100 livres. Chaque ration de foin devra être liée en bottes séparées lors de la livraison par le contracteur.

77. Le contracteur, lorsque requis par l'officier des vivres, fournira du son au lieu d'avoine, dans la proportion de l4 livres de son pour une ration d'avoine; muis il ne sera pas donné plus d'une ration de son par semuine à chaque cheval, excepté pour les chevaux malades pour lesquels le contracteur, lorsque requis de le faire, fournira des rations de son tous les jours.

PAILLE SI ON EN & BESOIN.

78. La paille devra être celle d'avoine, bien nette, sèche et sans chardons ni mauvaises herbes. Elle devra être livire en bottes de 12 livres chacune, au dépôt du camp en telle quantité et lorsqu'on la demandera.

79. La livr ison de la paille aux différents corps sous les tentes dépendra de l'officier commandant le camp, et sera fournie sur son certificat. 80. Lorsque l'ordre aura été donné de livrer la puille.

80. Lorsque l'ordre aura été donné de livrer la puille. elle le s-ra d'après l'échelle suivante, et cette quantité ne devra pas être outre passée :--12 livres pour chaque homme, ce qui est jugé suffisant pour tous le temps du campement, soit que l'on s'en serve à son état normal ou qu'on la convertisse en nattes. Lorsque les troupes se serviront de paille, on ne devra pas la laissée libre dans le fond de la tente, mais on devra en faire des nattes. Ces nattes de paille se font de la manière suivantes : on file la paille en cordes, puis on plante dans la terre deux rangées de chevilles de tente parallèles l'une de l'autre à deux pieds de distance, on étend la corde de paille sur les chevilles d'une à l'autre, puis on entrelace d'autres cordes de manière à former un tissu, et en très peu de temps on se fait ainsi une natte. Chaque homme doit avoir deux nattes, une pour la tête et les épaules et l'autre pour les pieds. Quatre hommes peuvent dans une journée faire les nattes nécessaire à toute une tente ; deux occuper à filer la paille et les deux autres à tisser les cordes.

81. Il ne sera pas accordé de paille pour les tentes munies d'un plancher, et ces tentes ne seront délivrées qu'aux corps campés dans les environs du magasin du district, pou vu cependant qu'il y en ait de disponibles.

82. Il ne sera pas fourni de paillasses aux corps qui ont de tentes.

CONDITIONS A OBSERVER.

83. Si un contracteur manquait de livrer au temps et au lieu désignés quelques-uns des approvisionne ments requis dans le camp et pour lesquels il aurait pris un contrat, l'officier des vivres sous la direction de l'officier commandant, achètera immédiatement les provisions qui pourraient manquer, et si elles lui cou-taient plus cher que le prix auquel elles avaient été contractées, l'excédant serait déduit de l'argent qui pourrait être dû à ce contracteur.

L'officier commandant pourra, lorsqu'il le jugera à propos, nommer un bureau pour inspacter un article quelconque offert par un contracteur, et si le bureau est d'opinion que cet article m'est pas de la qualité spécifiée dans le contrat, il sera rejeté, et l'officier des vivres, sous la direction de l'officier commandant, achetera, sans en appeler ailleurs, l'article nécessaire pour remplacer celui qui aura été rejeté, lequel sera payé tel que pourvu dans le paragraphe plus haut.

La valeur des divers articles fournis par contrat, sera payée par le département de la milice et de la défense, par l'entremise du payeur du district, lorsque le contrat aura été rempli. Les comptes en double doivent être faits sur les formules prescrites, et les reçus de l'officier qui reçoit l'argent doivent y être attachés comme pièces justificatives.

Les contracteurs ne seront payés que pour la quan-tité de rations réellement délivrées aux différents corps dans le camp, pour lesquelles ils auront pris un contrat.

RÈGLEMENTS MÉDICAUX.

85. Les arrengements médicaux pour chaque bataillon et corps de milice seront réglés régimentairement par le plus ancien officier de santé du district, lequel agira comme premier officier de santé du camp d'exercice de division. Une pharmacie portative, contenant toutes les médecines nécessaires, etc., sera fournie par le gouvernement à chaque bataillon d'infanterie, batterie d'artillerie de campagne, et chaque régiment de cavalerie. A la levée du camp, ces pharmacies portatives seront remises dans le magasin du district militaire et les médecines, etc., qui auraient été dépensées, seront remplacées ain qu'elles puissent être en état de servir en tout temps pour le service actif.

86. Dans les camps d'exercice de brigade ou de bataillon, les arrangements médicaux se feront régimentairement sous la direction de l'officier de santé de chaque bataillon ou corps

87. Autant que possible les officiers, sous officiers et les soldats passeront une inspection médicale avant de laisser les quartiers généraux de leur corps ou compagnie, et lorsque l'on aura pas été capable de le faire avant, ils devront passer cette inspection dès que le corps ou bataillon aura été concentré.

88. Cette inspection est exigée en vue de s'assurer, 10. Si l'homme souffre alors de quelque malad e, tel que rhumatisme, maladie de poumon ou de cœur, de quelques viscères de l'abdomen, ou autre sorte de maladie syphilitique ; s'il a la vue courte ; s'il a quelque jointure attectée ; s'il a les pieds formés de manière à le gêner dans la marche ; 20 Si l'homme a quelque prédisposition à quelqu'une des maladies ci-dessus, ou en a récemment souffert, enfin s'il y a chez lui quelque chose qui le rende impropre au service militaire.

89. S'il se trouve des hommes qui soient affectés tel que ci-dessus, on ne devra pas leur permettre d'aller au camp, non plus que d'y demeurer, tant pour leur propre bien que pour prévenir toute réclamation de compensation pour cause de maladie.

90. Les o l ciers de santé, de bataillon ou de corps de milice, examineront, aussitôt qu'ils le pourront, leurs sous-officiers et soldats afin de s'assurer s'ils ont eu la petite verole, ou s'ils ont été vaccinés; et vaccineront, aussitôt que possible, ceux qui n'auront pas eu cette maladie ou qui n'auront pas été vaccinés déjà.

91. Le médecin de chaque corps ou bataillon fera tous les matins un rapport de santé dont il transmettra copie à l'officier commandant le bataillen; et s'il est attaché à une division, il en transmettra aussi une copie au premier officier de santé de la division ; de plus il inspectera tous les prisonniers avant qu'ils soient amenés devant le commandant (formule de rapport de santé, A.)

92. Le chirurgien de chaque bataillon gardera un régistre des admi-sions et des décharges de tous ceux envoyés à l'hôpital, d'après la formule B.

93. Chaque chirurgien donnera un reçu pour tous les articles médicaux qui lui seront délivrés pour l'u-sage de son corps de milice, et sera responsable de l'emploi de ces articles. Lorsqu'il sera relevé de son office, il remettra dans les magasins du district toutes les médecines et les eff-ts s'y rattachant qui n'auront pas été dépensés, en même temps qu'une liste de ce qu'il aura dépensé, et pour ce, son reçu lui sera remis.

94. Tous les jours un médecin sera envoyé en devoir dans le camp, comme officier de santé du jour. Cet officier restera dans le camp pendant son tour de service ; un autre sera envoyé aussi tous les jours au lieu du tir à la cible, et y restera présent tout le temps de la pratique. A l'exception de ceux détachés pour les services ci-dessu-, tous les officiers de santé accomp a-gneront leurs corps les jours de parade ou de sortie en brigade.

95. Le vin ou toute autre boisson spiritueuse qui pourra être prescrite, en cas de maladie, devra être payée par la personne qui s'an servita. Les officiers voudront bien porter une attention toute spéciale aux paragraphes 138, 140 et 141 des Ordres et Règlement pour la milice active.

96. Les officiers de santé ne devront faire, pour le compte du gouvernement, accune dépense sans en avoir auparavant obtenu la permission.

97. Les officiers de santé auront soin de garder une liste des noms de tous les soldats et officiers auquels ils auront donné des médecines, ou des avis pendant les seize jours d'exercices, conformément à la formule A. page 54 des règlements pour la milice active, mentionnant les médecines administrées dans chaque cas. A la levée du camp, ils devront transmettre une copie de cette liste aux quartiers généraux, et en même temps une liste des médecines qu'ils auront dépensées.

98. Dans les cas de mals die ou d'accidents sérieux, l'officier de santé, conjointement avec l'officier commandant du corps de milice prendront tous les arrangements immédiats qui pourront être nécessaires, soit qu'ils envoient immédiatement le patient chez lui si c'est possible, ou au plus proche hopital, et feront sans délai un rapport minutieux, de toutes les circonstances ayant trait au cas, et l'enverront aux quartiers généraux. Toutes les semaines l'efficier de santé préparera un rapport de l'état de ses patients, et l'enverra aux quartiers généraux par l'entremise de l'officier commandant.

99. L'officier de santé du jour visitera le camp et ses alentours, les tentes de corps de garde, la cuisine, les lieux d'aisance, etc., et fera rapport à l'officier commandant du camp de toute malpropreté ou place malsaine qu'il aura pu remarquer.

CHOIX DU SITE POUR CAMPEMENT.

100. Ci suivent les principes qui ont surtout conduit à l'adoption des formes de campement militaire qui doivent prévaloir dans la disposition d'un camp, quelque soit la manière dont sont campées les troupes.

lo. Le front du campement doit correspondre en étendue avec celui occupé par la force déployée en lígne.

20. Les tentes doivent être déposées de manière à permettre de circuler librement à travers le camp, et sur le front du camp garder un grand espace.

30. Les tentes, bivouacs ou cabanes doivent être disposés avec symitrie et de manière à faciliter le plus possible la ventilation, la propreté et la salubrité.

40 Le camp doit être arrangé dans un espace aussi compacte que puissent le permettre les considérations ci-dessus.

101. Les tentes de bataillon ne doivent jamais être plantées sur une double ligne; les lignes courtes et simples sont préférables. Les tentes en ligne devront être séparées l'une de l'autre par un espace égal au moins à une fois et demie le diamètre d'une tente; et plus les lignes pourront être convenable ment placées loin l'une de l'autre, le mieux ce sera. Lorsque les troupes sont éloignées de l'ennemi, et qu'elles doivent passer quelque temps campées, les camps peuvent être formés à doubles intervalles si le terrain le permet.

102. Lorsque les troupes demeurent dans un camp plus que trois jours, les tentes doivent être levées tous les deux jours. Toutes les armes, la paille et les couvertes doivent être enlevées du lieu couvert par la tente, et le terrain doit être bien nettoyé, soit avec un balai ou des branches d'arbre et laissé exposé au soleil et au vent. Les couvertes et les habille menis, etc., doiv-nt être étendus à l'air et les tentes dressées imparfaitement dans les intervalles du camp, laissant les coud-s et le volant libres au vent. Les tentes ne doivent jamais être dressées dans les intervalles. Les hommes durant la nuit, invariablement urinent près de la tente et gâtent le terrain.

103. Lorsque les troupes demeurent plus qu'une nuit campées, les volunts des tentes doivent être d'abord roulés tous les matins. Dans les temps pluvieux le volant peut toujours être roulé du -côté de la tente dessous le vent.

104 Commo règle générale, la porte des tentes doit faire face à la tête de la colonne, mais cette règle ne doit pas intervenir lorsque la porte se trouverait à recevoir le vent de f ont.

105. Des tranchées doivent être pratiquées autour des tentes, et des égouts doivent communiquer avec ces tranchées afin que l'eau n'y séjourne pas, et s'en écoule facilement. La première journée de pluie après l'établissement du camp, les officiers commandant des compagnies, examineront eux-mêmes le terrain où sont campées leurs compagnies, et verront à à ce que les égouts soient convenablement faits. Une demi heure d'auvrage, d'us un jour pluvieux, lorsque le cours naturel de l'eau est facile à voir, fera plus pour tenir le camp dans un état de salubité, que ne le ferait une journée d'ouvrage dans un temps sec.

106. Lorsqu'il s'agit de faire camper un corps considérable de troupes, il serait très à propos qu'un dessin quelque grossier qu'il soit, du lieu que doit occuper chaque corps, fut préparé d'avance ; par ce moyen l'officier chargé de l'érection du campement, peut en quelques minutes placer tous les porte-fanious et faire en sorte que les régiments, à leur arrivée, pui sent immédia tement se rendre chacun à la place qui lui est assignée. La cavalerie et l'artillerie ne doivent jamais être placées sur le flanc, à moins que cette dernière n'y soit nécessaire pour des fins de défense; dans ce cas, les calons doivent être protégés par une forte garde d'infanterie. La raison pour cela, c'est que dans un cas d'attaque, les corps à cheval prennent plus de temps pour se mettre sur pied et que les chevaux, s ils sont effrayés, peuvent jeter la confusion parmi les troupes.

107. Le dépôt du commissariat doit être placé dans un lieu central, ayant un accès facile pour toutes les parties du camp et près d'un bon chemin pour pouvoir y porter commodément les provisions. Les ingénieurs doivent généralement camper auprès des quartiens généraux de la division.

APPROVISIONNEMENT DE L'EAU.

108. Il y a peu de chose qui soit d'une plus grande importance pour les troupes campées, que l'eau fournie en quantité et pure.

109. Un se procure ordinairement l'eau des courants, des réservoirs ou des puits. Lorsque les troupes sont campées pour un temps assez considérable, ou que d-s dépôts stationnaires sont formés sur la ligne des communications, il peut être nécessaire de creuser des puits, de faire des réservoirs, et de piser des tuyaux.

110. Quelque soit la source, d'où l'on puise l'eau, il est d'une nécessité absolue qu'elle ne soit pas souillée. L'officier chargé de la formation du compement posera en conséquence, près de cet endroit, des sentinelles qu'il prendra parmi les premières troupes qui arriveront. Lorsque le camp sera complètement formé, une garde régulière devra être postée pour la surveillance de l'approvisionnement de l'eau. Si l'on prend l'eau d'un courant, on aura soin que l'endroit où on la puisera pour les hommes soit distinct de celui pour les animaux; ce dernier doit être au dessous de l'autre, et il serait à propos d'envoyer une patrouille au dessus de cet endroit pour empêcher les hommes de s'y laver ou de s'y baigner.

111. Tout lavage, dans les environs d'un puits ou d'un endroit où l'on prend l'eau pour boire, est strictement défendu parce que les eaux sales s'infiltrent à travers le sol.

112. Si le courant à un fond vaseux on aura soin de ne pas remuer la va e en plongeant les sceaux dans l'eau; dans ce cas, des petites pompes, qui doivent former partie de l'équipement des ingénieurs, peuvent y être fixées pour puiser l'eau. Si le courant n'est pas profond on y construira des écluses; ce qui se fait facilement au m'yen de piquets et de gazon.— Un morceau de toile goudronnée servirait avec avantage pour rendre ces écluses étanches. Un baril plongé dans le lit du courant serait très-avantageux pour y puiser l'eau ou y fixer une pompe.

pour y puiser l'eau ou y fixer une pompe. 113. On peut facilement faire un filtre au moyen de deux barils placés l'un dans l'autre, et en remplissant l'espace entre les deux de paille propre, de gros sable et de charbon de bois lorsqu on peut s'en procurer, ou des branches d'arbres après en avoir enlevé l'écorce. L'eau est jetée dans le baril extérieur et s'élève dans le caril intérieur par des trous pratiqués dans le fond de ce dernier. Dans un camp permanent, si l'eau n'e-t pas bonne, on doit faire du charbon de bois, et filtrer régulièrement l'eau. Les troupes qui sont campées, consomment en moyenne un gallon d'eau par jour par tête ; mais dans des camps permanents cette proportion doit être augmentée, parce que les hommes doivent être encour gés à se laver autant que possible.

114. Si les bords du courant sont escarpés, on doit les applinir de sorte que les animau puissent ficilement aller boire. Si le sol est vaseux, on doit le couvrir de fascines, de pierres, etc., afin que les animaux ne s'y enfoncent pas. Un cheval, un bœuf ou un mulet, boit environ 1½ gallon à la fois, et prend à peu près 2 minutes peur boire, ou 3 minutes, si par l'empressement il devait en résulter de la confusion. Le temps nécessaire pour faire boire aucun nombre d'animaux peut facilement se calculer d'avance en connaissant le nombre qui peut boire en même temps. Lorsque l'on a un grand nombre d'animaux à taire boire, et que l'espace est étroit, chaque corps doit avoir ses heures fixes afin d'éviter tout encombrement.

115. Un officier doit invariablement accompagner tout parti de cavalerie, et ordre doit être donné que chaque cheval après avoir bu laisse l'abreuvoir, et que le parti se mette en rang à une petite distance pour ne pas nuire aux nouveaux arrivants.

116. Si le courant où doivent boire les animaux est très-peu profond, on devra le creuser ou y construire une écluse; les animaux boivent bien plus promptoment si l'equ a une profondeur de 4 ou 5 pouces, que si elle est moins profonde.

117. Il y a trois espèces de pompes généralement en usage pour les fins militaires.

1. Une petite pompe portative foulante avec boyaux flexibles, prenant l'eau à 18 pieds et la rejetant à environ 16 pieds, travaillant par une hauteur de 18 pieds, et l'élevant à 7 pieds (la hauteur d'une charette ordinaire pour l'eau); elle peut fournir 7 g°llons d'eau par minute.

2. Le puits-siphon de Norton, qui consiste en tubes enfoncés dans la terre au moyen d'un mouton (monkey) avec une pompe vissé sur le sommet. il faut environ trois heures pour fixer une de ces pompes Son pouvoir est de 7 gallons par minute et peut fournir à trois chevaux buvant à la fois. C'es pompes sont très utiles pour la recherche des sources d'eau.

très utiles pour la recherche des sources d'eau. 3. La "pompe Bastier" qui consiste en une chaîne sans fin, et travaillant sur une roue. Elle peut prendre l'eau à une profondeur de 45 pieds et donner 2,200 gallons d'eau par heure (deux hommes la font mouvoir.)

118. Lorsque l'on prend l'eau des puits, ceux-ci devront, pour y faire boire les animaux, être pourvus d'auges faits de bois ou de feuille de tôle si l'on peut s'en procurer, ou simplement d'une citerne creusée dans la terre et grossièrement boisée de pierres.

LIEUX D'AISANCES.

119. Les lieux d'aisances d'oivent être faits, par des hommes de corvée, aussitôt que les troupes sont arrivées sur le terrain du campement ; les endroits pour cela, doivent avoir été marqués d'avance par les quartiers maîtres de corps ou de bataillon. La tranchée doit être pratiquée aussi étroite que possible et de quatre pieds environ de profondeur, on posera sur le bord, à dix-huit pouces de terre, une pièce de bois pour servir de siége ; le tout devra être enclos de branches d'arbre ou de planches pour cacher la vue du public.

120. Des hommes de corvée devront tous les jours jeter une couple de pouces de terre sur les ordures, afin qu'il n'y ait pas de mauvaise odeur.

121. Lorsqu'une fosse ou tranchée est remplie il faut en pratiquer une autre auprès de la dernière.

122. La police et les sentinelle du camp doivent avoir ordre d'empêcher les hommes d'être cause d'aucune nuisance dans les environs du camp.

POLICE DU CAMP.

123. A chaque camp d'exercice, il devra être détaché un certain nombre d'hommes pour agir comme police militaire, dont la force varira suivant le besoin des circonstances à la discrétion de l'officier commandant des troupes campées. La police militaire, composée d'hommes, partie de l'infanterie et partie de la cavalerie, fera, aux heures désignées et à tour de rôle, la patrouille dans les environs du camp, pour y faire observer l'ordre et supprimer toute irrégularité de conduite de la part des troupes. Les hommes détachés pour faire le devoir de police militaire, devront porter un morceau de cotton ou linge blanc attaché sur le bras droit audessus du coudre, ou toute autre marque distinctive, et les officiers et les hommes de tous les corps qui frequenteront les camps d'exercice doivent être avertis d'obéir à leurs ordres et de leur prêter main forte dans l'exécution de leurs devoirs.

124. Dans les camps d'exercice de division la police militaire sera sous les ordres de l'assistant adjudant-général.

125. Dans les camps de brigade, elle sera sous les ordres du major de brigade, et à tous les camps, un sous officier sera nommé par le commandant pour faire le service de prévôt sous-officier.

126. Lorsque des camps sont formés auprès des villes ou villages, si les autorités civiles demandent le support des troupes dans le temps que ces camps seront en operation, l'officier commandant devra sans retard leur prêter toute assistance possible de sa part.

DEVOIR DANS LE CAMP.

127. Les devoirs ordinaires de routine à remplir dans ces camps d'exercice seront, à part les modification exigées par les circonstances, les mêmes que ceux remplis par les troupes régulières de Sa Majesté en pareil cas, suivant la teneure des règlements.

128. Au point du jour un coup de canon sera tiré par la batterie de campagne, après quoi sera sonné le réveil par les corps de tambours et de fifres appartenant aux bataillons nommés chaque jour à tour de rôle pour ce service ; et au coucher du soleil on tirera un autre coup de canon, et aussitôt sonnera la retraite en la manière ci-dessus spécifiée. Règle générale, le déjeuner sera à 8 heures a.m., le dîner à 1 heure p.m. et le souper à 6 heures p.m. Le tattoo sonnera à neuf heures et demie, et alors les officiers d'ordonnance de bataillons ou des corps recueillesont les rapports, et les remettront à l'officier supérieur du jour. A dix heures, le clairon sonnera l'extinction des lumières. Après cela aucune personne n'aura la permission de sortir en dehors du camp, sans une permission expresse de l'officier à qui il appartient de la donner, et tous les officiers et soldats devront coucher dans le camp.

129. Il y aura un officier supérieur, et un officier de santé du jour de nommés chaque jour dans les ordres de brigade, et avec l'officier des vivres ils formeront le bureau d'inspection pour l'examen des provisions fournies par les contracteurs pour l'usage des troupes. La décision des officiers qui composeront ce bureau sera sans rappel, soit pour le refus ou autrement, des rations de chaque jour ; et lorsque celles-ci auront été acceptées aucune plainte ensuite quant à leur qualité ne sera écoutée. Ce bureau s'assemblera à l'heure de la livraison des provisions dans le camp, et les officiers qui en feront partie devront être ponctuels à se rendre à l'heure indiquée afin que les troupes puissent recevoir leurs provisions sans retard inutile.

DISTRIBUTION DE RATIONS.

130. En même temps que s'assemblera le bureau ci-dessus désigné, les quartiers-maîtres, les sergents quartiers-maîtres des corps, accompagnés des caporaux de service des troupes, compagnies ou corps et un sous-officier du jour de chacun des ordinaires (messes) de troupe ou de compagnie, seront présents au lieu désigné pour la réception et la livraison des rations, et lorsque les quartiers-maîtres auront reçu en gros de l'officier des vivres, la quantité de provisions auxquelles ont droit leurs corps respectifs, ils distribueront aux caporaux de service les quantités que ces corps doivent recevoir, pour être ensuite subdivisées par les caporaux de service, en la proportion voulue pour chaque ordinaire (mess).

131. Il sera du devoir des sergents d'ordonnance de troupe, compagnie et corps, de fournir aux quartiers-maîtres des corps, le rapport de rations de chaque jour, sur lequel les quartiers-maîtres baseront le rapport général de rations qui doit être passé à l'officier des vivres chargé de la réception, de la garde et de la livraison de toutes les provisions, combustible, fourrage, nécessaires pour les chapitre des règlements pour les approvisionnements.

132. Le canal par où devront passer tous les ordres pour les troupes, est, aux camps d'exercice de division, l'assitant adjudant-général, et à ceux de brigade, le major de brigade. 133. L'assitant quartier-maître-général, aux camps de division, et le quartier-maître de camp aux camps de brigade, délivreront aux divers corps tous les articles d'équipage de camp et ces derniers les leur remettront après la levée des camps. Ils livreront chaque jour les munitions nécessaires pour la pratique du tir, de même que les munitions à poudre, quand on en aura besoin pour les grandes parades, et exerceront une surveillance générale sur la propreté du camp. Il sera alloué, une tente pour chaque dix hommes qui seront sous la charge d'un sous-officier ; une pour chaque officier supérieur de régiment ; une pour les officiers d'une compagnie ; une pour chaque chirurgien, une autre qui sera la tente de l'inffimerie régimentaire ; une pour être la tente du commissariat lorsque l'on ne pourra pas se procurer d'autre lieu plus avantageux pour cette fin ; une tente de garde pour chaque bataillon, une pour chacun des officiers de l'état-major ; et une autre tente (marquee) pour chaque bataillon et régiment pour l'ordinaire (mess) des officiers.

134. L'instructeur de mousqueterie assistera tous les jours à l'instruction de mousqueterie et à la pratique du tir pendant la durée des exercices ; verra à ce que les officiers comprennent et exécutent le mode de garder les régistres des points obtenus par les hommes au tir; sera constamment présent au lieu du tir pendant les heures de pratique, afin de veiller et conduire lui-même le mode de tirer et sera le seul juge dans les cas de différend sur l'exactitude des points marqués, etc. Il sera aussi responsable des rapports de la pratique du tir, et chaque jour après que le tir sera fini, il recueillera soigneusement ces rapports auquels il apposera ses initiales en cas de besoin de vérification, et les remettra à l'officier commandant du camp en conformité des instructions qui pourront être données à cet effet ; et enfin il exécutera tout ordre, ayant trait à la mousqueterie, que pourra prescrire le commandant.

135. Il sera du devoir des majors de brigade de garder un régistre de les tous devoirs de la brigade, et de donner chaque jour, aux adjudants des corps, les ordres pour le jour suivant, et les adjudants devront se présenter à la tente du major de brigade à l'heure fixée pour recevoir ces ordres.

136. Les officiers d'ordonnance rempliront tous les devoirs que le député-adjudant-général ou l'officier commandant de la brigade prescriront.

137. Il sera du devoir des adjudants de garder un régistre des devoirs des officiers dans leurs corps respectifs, et de promulguer, d'après les instructions de leurs officiers commandant, les ordres nécessaires; le sergent major donnera les ordres aux sergents d'ordonnance des troupes, compagnies et corps, et gardera le régistre des devoirs des sous-officiers.

138. Il y aura tous les jours un piquet de nommé dans chaque corps en campement, lequel, sous les ordres de l'officier commandant de la brigade et officier supérieur du jour, sera chargé de faire la patrouille dans les environs du camp, ou toute autre place, où il sera jugé à propos de l'envoyer, pour aider la police du camp, s'il y a nécessité, à empêcher toute infraction aux ordres qui pourraient être faite par les hommes appartenant à leur corps, et de ramener au camp, quiconque se serait absenté troupes, et ses devoirs sont particuliarisés dans le sans permission ; mais, à l'exception de circonstances urgentes et inévitables, le piquet d'un corps ne devra pas se mêler des hommes d'un autre corps.

139. Les officiers commandants des corps de brigade auront soin de voir à ce que le nombre des hommes désignés chaque jour pour le corps de garde, faire les sentinelles, et pour les devoirs de régiment, ne dépasse pas le nombre autorisé par les réglements de la Reine, et les coutumes observées dans l'armée régulière.

140. Un officier supérieur du jour, pris à tour de rôle, et suivant le rang d'ancienneté parmi les lieutenants colonels et les majors de régiment, sera chaque jour désigné dans les ordres de brigade.

141. Des petits magasins, pour la fourniture des provisions ou articles extra dont on pourra avoir besoin seront permis dans le camp à la discrétion du comman dant (afin que les hommes puissentse procurer à leurs proprès frais les effets qu'ils pourraient désirer, tels que beure, lait, œufs, fromage, etc. ;) maissous aucun les boissons alcooliques ne seront toléprétexte, rées dans le camp, et il sera du devoir tout spécial de l'officier supérieur du jour et de la police du camp de visiter souvant ces sortes de magasins pour voir à ce que cette défense soit strictement obéie. s'il arrivait qu'un vivandier se permît d'apporter ou de vendre des boissons alcooliques dans le camp, il devra être chassé et ne plus être admis de rechef.

142. Les blancs nécessaires pour les retours de marche, de parade, de rations et de mousqueterie dont ces camps de brigade auront besoin, seront fournis et envoyés des quartiers-généraux aux députés adjudant généraux pour être par eux distribués aux corps de milice, mais les officiers com-mandant des bataillons ou corps, devront fournir la papeterie nécessaire, les retours journaliers de parade, les rapports de la garde et des maladescomme auparavant-et tous les corps emporteront avec eux leurs livres d'ordres de régiment et de compagnie, et le régistre des punitions.

143. A moins d'une stricte discipline, il est impossible de former les soldats en un corps millitaire effectif et formidable-la bonne discipline ne s'acquiert que par une obéissance constance et habituelle aux ordres, sans murmur et sans question.

Les officiers, sous-officiers et soldats doivent tous être imbus de ces principes, et se rappeler que pendant la période des exercices annuels, ils sont, en ce qui regarde la discipline militaire, guidés par les règlements de la Reine et sujets aux articles de guerre de même que s'il étaient employés en service actif, tel que défini dans l'acte de milice de la Puissance.

144. Les officiers commandants des corps, pour une première offense, de nature peu sérieuse, n'auront recours qu'à une leçon d'avertissement, mais pour la répétition de l'offense, ils ne devront infliger que la moindre punition autorisé suivant la nature et le degré de l'offense; toute répétition d'ivresse sera punie par le retranchement de la solde d'un jour, et par la mise aux arrêts, à la discrétion de l'officier commandant; et afin de prévenir autant que possible les offenses, le commandant, et tous les autres officiers feront tous leurs efforts pour empêcher l'introduction dans le camp d'aucune boisson spiritueuse ou enivrante, car, il est reconnu que les crimes ou les offenses ne sont le plus souvent que les suites de l'ivrognerie.

145. Dès qu'un homme sera trouvé avec des liqueurs spiritueuses en sa possession, pendant qu'il sera dans le camp, ou en emportant dans le camp, la liqueur lui sera immédiatement otée et jetée, et il devra être puni par son officier commandant.

146. Les moindres punitions que puisse infliger / cées, aient fait le nombre de points de mérite tel les officiers commandants sont les arrêts dans le camp pour toute période qu'ils jugeront à propos, mais qui ne devra pas dépasser 14 jours ; et pour une cause d'ivresse répétée, aux arrêts, sera ajouté le retranchement de la solde. Tout homme qui aura été mis aux arrêts par son officier commandant, n'aura pas la permission de dépasser les limites du camp (si ce n'est lorsqu'il sera de service) pendant toute la durée de sa punition, et en sus de sa part des devoirs à remplir dans la brigade et dans son régiment, il sera employé, et cela comme service extra, sous la direction du quartier-maître de camp, au maintien de la propreté dans le camp.

RÉGLEMENTS POUR LA PRATIQUE DU TIR A LA CIBLE.

147. La pratique du tir à la cible, pour la milice de la Puissanne est d'une importance majeure. Les sous-officiers et soldats de tout corps armé de la carabine Snider, tireront cinq coups à 200 verges, cinq coups à 400 verges et cinq coups à 600 verges ; et le gouvernement accordera des prix en argent avec décorations, au meilleur tireur dans chaque compagnie, corps, bataillon et dans chaque district militaire, qui aura suivi le cours des pratiques du tir à la cible aux exercices annuels. Ces prix seront accordés comme suit :

143. Au meilleur tireur dans chaque compagnie, $5, avec décoration. Au meilleur tireur dans chaque bataillon, $10 avec décoration. Au meilleur tireur dans chaque district, $15, avec décoration ; et l'adjudant-géneral de la milice donnera un prix de $50 avec une médaille d'argent au meilleur tireur, avec la carabine Snider, dans la milice active de la Puissance, pour l'année 1872.

149. La pratique annuelle du tir à la cible pour toutes les brigades et batteries de campagne, lorsque cela sera praticable, se fera avec des canons de campagne, ou de position, à volonté, sous instructions spéciales de l'inspecteur de l'artillerie-et des prix en argent avec décorations d'artilleurs, seront donnés par le gouvernement. Au meilleur tireur dans chaque brigade ou batterie d'artillerie de campagne, $10 avec décoration, au meilleur tireur dans chaque batterie de garnison, $5, avec décoration, et $5 en sus, si la batterie ne reçoit pas de prix pour tir à la carabine.

Les troupes de cavalerie, ou autres corps, armés de la carabine Snider, tireront cinq coups à 200 verges, et cinq coups à 400 verges ; le meilleur ti-reur de chacun de ces corps recevra un prix de $5, avec décoration,-et lorsque les troupes seront formées en un régiment, en sus du prix de chaque troupe séparément, il y aura un prix de $10, avec décoration, pour le meilleur tireur de ce régiment. La brigade du Grand Tronc, pratiquera son tir annuel à la cible à l'époque de la saison que le jugera à propos le commandant, et elle aura droit aux prix ci-dessus mentionnés ; elle aura droit aussi de concourir pour le prix de $15 accordé au meilleur tireur du district. Pour qu'une compagnie ou un corps puisse concourir pour les prix ci-dessus et les recevoir, il faudra que les 2 au moins de sa force autorisée soient présents et aient fait les exercices annuels, et la pratique du tir à la cible prescrits (et les hommes devront être bona fide enrôlés et membres de tel corps ou compagnie conformément à l'acte de milice, et avoir leurs noms dûment enregistrés dans les rapports de la pratique du tir de la compagnie.)

Un bataillon ou une brigade d'artillerie ne pourra recevoir le prix de bataillon, qu'en autant que toutes ses compagnies ou l'atteries se seront exer- four de rôle chaque homme pour tirer sans interqu'établi au cours prescrit de la pratique du tir pendant l'exercice annuel, et soient en nombre suffisant tel que ci-dessus mentionné. Le concours pour les prix ci-dessus ne sera ouvert que pour les sous-officiers et soldats de la milice active, les officiers ne devant pas pratiquer pendant le cours des exercices prescrit pour les sous-officiers et les soldats. La cible devra avoir, à 200 verges, 4 pieds de large, avec un bull's eye de 8 pouces carrés, et un centre de deux pieds ; à 400 et 600, elle sera de 6 pieds de large, avec un bull's eye de 2 pieds carrés et un centre de 4 pieds carrés. Le bull's eye contera 4 points, le centre 3, et le outer 2, à toutes les distances. La position pour tirer sera, à 200 verges, debout, à 400, à genou, et à 600 la position sera libre, mais sans se servir d'appuis artificiels.

150. Les points de mérite pour une compagnie, un bataillon ou un district s'obtiennent en divisant le nombre total des points faits aux trois distances -200, 400 et 600, par le nombre d'hommes qui ont réellement tiré, et en ajoutant après le quotient, s'il en reste, pas plus de deux décimals.

151. Le meilleur tireur dans une compagnie, un bataillon, un district ou dans la puissance, sera celui qui aura fait le plus grand nombre de points aux trois distances, savoir : 200, 400 et 600 verges.

152. Tout nombre égal de points se décidera par le plus grand nombre de points obtenus à 600 verges. S'il y a encore égal nombre de points on passera aux notabre de points obtenus à 400 verges; s'il y a de nouveau un égal nombre de points, on ira au nombre de points obtenus à 200 verges ; et enfin s'il y a encore égalité de points on prendra. pour la décision, les derniers coups tirés qui ne comportent pas un égal nombre de points, en commençant par la distance de 600 verges, et pour la décision des nombres égaux de points obtenus pour le prix de l'adjudant général, un détail du tir des gagnants de prix de district devra être envoyé à l'adjudant général aux quartiers généraux.

153. Les différentes compagnies suivront le cours prescrit de la pratique du tir à la cible, sous le commandement des capitaines, qui devront garder un registre de ce qu'aura fait chaque homme, et qu'il devront signer et certifier comme correct.

154. A la conclusion des exercices, le régistre de la pratique du tir sera envoyé par l'instructeur de mousqueterie de la brigade, aux majors de brigade qui prépareront les rapports de districts sur les rapports de compagnie, et les enverront au députés adjudants-généraux pour être par eux transmis aux quartiers généraux.

155. Les registres devront être tenus avec le plus grand soin possible, parce que c'est de là que dépend le choix de ceux qui auront des prix.

156. Comme règle générale, il devra toujours se trouver deux personnes pour la marque des points, un sous-officier et un soldat d'une compagnie étrangère à celle qui tirera. Il devra toujours se trouver aussi un trompette sur le lieu du tir.

157. L'instructeur de mousqueterie devra se trouver sur les lieux lorsqu'une compagnie tirera afin de veiller à ce que le tir se fasse suivant les règlements.

158. Afin de prévenir tout accident on devra strictement observer la règle suivante : -

L'escouade se formera à dix pas en arrière du point de tir "armes à terre" et se retirera à six pas en arrière des armes qui ne devront être prises qu'au mot de commandement. Le commandant, qui se tiendra auprès du point du tir, appellera à de points lui aura été lui aura été lu, il rejoindra l'escouade. Le commandant de l'escouade aura soin tout particulièrement d'avertir chaque homme sur ce qu'il a à faire pour tirer, surtout de ne pas tirer avant que le pavillon scit entièrement abattu. On ne devra charger son fusil qu'au point du tir. Personne autre que le commandant de l'escouade ou le marqueur ne pourra s'approcher à plus de dix pas du point de tir.

EXERCICE ET EVOLUTIONS EN CAMPAGNE.

159. Règle générale, lorsque les officiers qui commandent les brigades, n'en décideront pas autrement, il y aura chaque jour trois parades pour l'exercice toutes les compagnies et corps d'infanterie qui ne seront pas occupés à la pratique du tir, aux heures suivantes, savoir :---

160. A 6 heures a. m. exercice de compagnie sous la direction des capitaines ou autres officiers qui commandent des compagnies, surveillées par les officiers supérieurs ; à 10 heures a. m. exercice de bataillon sous la direction des officiers qui commandent des bataillons ; et à 3 heures p. m. ou autre heure que le député adjudant-général ou l'officier senior commandant pourra ordonner pour les exercices de brigade.

161. Aux parades du matin pour l'exercice de compagnie, sous la direction des capitaines ou des officiers commandant des compagnies, les mouvements et les exercices contenus dans la partie II du livre des exercices d'infanterie (dernière édition) se pratiqueront depuis la page 58 jusqu'à page 101, et on prendra un soin bien particulier d'enseigner à chaque compagnie la manière d'exécuter les exercices d'escarmouche, tels que dictés depuis la page 91 à la page 101. Chaque officier de compagnie s'exercera aussi à ces parades du matin, sur le mode de placer les hommes par rang de taille, de ranger une compagnie et d'en compter les hommes, de même que sur le mode à suivre pour l'inspection d'une compagnie, et pratiquera le maniement des armes et les exercices de peleton. Les soldats pratiqueront le maniement des armes prescrit pour la courte carabine, à l'exception de ce qui regarde le mode de mettre et remettre la baïonnette, pour lequel on suivra les instructions données pour la longue carabine. Tous les ordres contenus dans le livre des exercices (Field Exercices) pour la conduite des troupes qui portent la courte carabine, s'appliquent pareillement aux hommes armés de la longue carabine, et pendant le cours des exercices du peleton, on devra enseigner aux officiers comme aux soldats la position à prendre et la manière de mirer suivant la teneure du livre des exercices et de l'instruction de mousqueterie depuis les pages 176 à 185. On enseignera aussi aux officiers et aux soldats le mode de monter et de relever la garde, de poser et de relever les sentinelgarde, de poser et de relever sentinelles, de donner le qui-vive pendant la nuit, de recevoir les visites des postes et de payer les compliments convenables. Les sous-officiers et soldats devront être instruits sur la manière de saluer, telle que donnée dans la section 6, 1ère partie, page 14 du livre des exercices (Field Exercise). Il n' st pas nécessaire d'instruire les hommes à marcher lentement.

162. Aux parades pour exercice du bataillon, les officiers supérieurs et les adjudants seront à cheval, et les compagnies égalisées. La force de chaque compagnie, formée pour des fins d'exercice, ne devra ruption ses cinq coups et après que son nombre livre des exercices pour l'infanterie (Infantry Field Exercise Book); lorsque le bataillon est en ligne à rangs serrés, on lui montrera à former une garde avancée et une arrière garde ainsi que le mode de faire l'escarmouche, page 205 jusqu'à page 224. Les mouvements que doit connaître l'infanterie lorsqu'elle est en action devront aussi être enseignés tels que prescrits dans le livre des exercices.

163. Toutes les fois que les brigades paraderont pour les manœuvres en campagne, tout le corps devra être présent (ne laissant dans le camp que les gardes nécessaires et un cuisinier pour chaque troupe ou compagnie), A ces parades les troupes seront rangées en la manière que l'officier commandant jugera à propos, et si les circonstances le permettent elles s'avanceront, en colonne de route, à une petite distance du camp, détachant des gardes d'éclaireurs, de flanc et pour l'arrière, continuant toujours d'avancer comme étant en présence ou dans les environs d'un ennemi, se déployant de temps en temps suivant que pourront le permettre les circonstances et la nature du terrain en ligne de bataille, plaçant chaque arme du service de manière à pouvoir se supporter mutuellement. La position que doit occuper généralement l'artillerie de campagne lorsqu'elle est en mouvement avec une brigade, est décrite à la page 278 du livre des exercices (Field Exercice Book,) et les principes d'après lesquels ces manœuvres doivent se faire en contraste avec les simples exercices, sont expliqués, à la page 279.

164. La règle établie, relativement à l'emploi de chevaux et d'artillerie de campagne, dans ces manœuvres, veut que les officiers qui commandent des divisions ou des brigade détachées, indiquent à l'officier commandant l'artillerie sous ses ordres, l'objet général des mouvements qu'il va exécuter et ces officiers, doivent marquer aux capitaines de batteries les directions à prendre pour coopérer avec eux et les aider le plus avantageusement.

Les officiers qui commendent des batteries doivent avoir la permission (sous la direction de leurs propres officiers commandants) d'user de leur propre jugement sur les meilleurs positions à choisir pour leur aider soit à opérer avec avantage une retraite, soit à couvrir une attaque, conformant, autant que peut le permette la nature du terrain, leurs mouvements avec ceux du corps auquel ils sont attachés

Toute ordre spécial cependant, reçu par l'officie^r cammandant l'artillerie, de la part de l'officier commandant des troupes, rélativement aux dispositions à prendre dans ses mouvements, doit être promptement exécuté.

Une batterie ne doit jamais être exposée aux feu de l'infanterie, à moins de circonstances inévitables, et ce qui arrive quelquefois pendant l'action.

165. Les brigades doivent être enseignées à prendre des positions avantageuses pour la défense, ou à se former en ordre de bataille pour l'attaque, sur le mode à suivre pour attaquer et emporter des positions, pour retraiter comme étant en présence d'une force supérieure, le faisant régulièrement et dans un ordre militaire ; à laisser une position pour en prendre une autre, sur les différents supports à amener pour se couvrir et se relever mutuellement pendant la retraite. Toutes les fois que l'on exercera les troupes à prendre des positions pour la défense, on devra autant que cela sera praticable, leur enseigner à se créer des abris artificiels, lorsque la nature ne les offrira pas, en construisant des tranchées pour protéger l'infanterie, en la manière donnée pas être de moins de 25 hommes. On exercera les par le livre des exercices en campagne, et en élévant bataillens sur la manière de tirer, voir page 106 du des ouvrages d'épaulement pour protéger les batteries de campagne. On peut aussi, pendant ces jours d'exercice en campagne retirer un grand avantage des manœuvres, en divisant les brigades en deux forces dirigées par des commandants que l'on nommera d'avance dans les ordres de brigade ; l'une des forces agissant sur l'offensive et l'autre sur la défensive, le commandant de la division assité d'un nombre convenable d'officiers de l'état-major agissant comme arbitres, dans ces occasions les troupes devront être pourvues de minutions à poudre seulement. En mettant convenablement en pratique, ce système d'exercices de batailles simulées, les officiers et les soldats apprendront mieux leurs devoirs et cela contribuera pour beaucoup au dévelopement de leur intelligence militaire.

CAVALERIE.

166. Les exercices, pour toutes les troupes de cavalerie et les corps à cheval, lorsqu'ils ne seront pas requis pour l'exercice de brigade, se feront en régiment sous la direction des officiers commandants, et le mode de former des gardes avancées et des arrières gardes se pratiquera tel que donné dans les règlements pour la cavalerie, de même que le mode de s'étendre en tirailleurs à cheval, et de tirer aussi à cheval avec des cartouches à poudre seulement lorsque les circonstances le permettront.

L'instuction nécessaire pour les corps de cavalerie est particularisée dans le livre des exercices de cavalerie du ler août 1869, et en sus des remarques préliminaires contenues dans ce codo d'instruction, les sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 et 7, qui comprennent l'équitation militaire, devront tout particulièrement être étudiées.

ARTILLERIE DE CAMPAGNE.

167. Autant que possible, la pratique annuelle du tir, avec boulets et bombes, des batteries d'artillerie de campagne devra avoir lieu durant le temps que la batterie sera en campement.

S'il n'y a pas de lieu propice pour le tir, ou si le tir offrait quelque danger pour le public, la pratique devra être différée jusqu'à ce que l'on puisse obtenir un endroit convenable et sans danger.

168. Les officiers commandant des batteries enverront leurs réquisitions pour munitions et tous les effets et articles nécessaires pour l'équipement complet, avant le commencement de l'époque des exercices.

169. Nul exercice annuel par une batterie de campagne ne sera considéré efficace, à moins qu'elle n'ait, durant ce temps, accompli une marche de vingt milles ou environ, avec avant-trains et caissons, tous les outils de tranchée, équipage de campement, armes portatives, etc., le tout en ordre et à sa place respective ; dans ces occasions les officiers commandants monteront leurs détachements lorsque l'état des chemins le permettra.

170. Durant la période accordée pour l'exercice de régiment en campement, les officiers commandant choisiront les mouvements les plus simples et les utiles du "manuel des exercices de l'artillerie de campagne." On enseignera aux conducteurs à monter et à guider les chevaux, à nettoyer les harnais, etc, aux canonniers les exercices de canons, à monter et à descendre les canons, à les relever lorsqu'ils ont été renversés, à chancher les roues, enlever de l'artillerie qui a été démontée, etc.

171. Lorsque les officiers commandants en auront la facilité, ils devront montrer à leurs hommes à élever des abris pour les canons en action, à faire mouvoir les canons et les chevaux par dessus des murs, leur faire passer des fossés, des ravins, des petits cours d'eau ou autres obstacles, et sans s'attacher strictement aux règles, s'efforçant de stimuler l'habilité et les intérêts de tous ceux concernés.

172. A la conclusion des exercices, au retour des batteries de campagne à leurs quartiers-généraux, tous les harnais, selles, voitures, caissons, et les menus articles seront replacés à l'abri dans les hangars, après avoir été bien nettoyés et mis en état de pouvoir être pris pour un service immédiat. Les conducteurs devront nettoyer les harnais, et les canonniers, les canons et les caissons. Les officiers commandants des batteries de campagne seront tenus responsables en tout temps où leurs batteries pourront être subitement requises pour le service, du bon état dans lequel elles devront se trouver, ayant toutes leurs munitions de service et autros effets nécessaires.

173. Le lieut.-colonel Franch, inspecteur d'artillerie et de munitions de guerre, et commandant de l'école d'artillerie batterie "A" de Kingston, transmettra aux quartiers généraux un rapport détaillé de son inspection annuelle des corps d'artillerie dans la province d'Ontario et un rapport spécial de l'école d'artillerie, batterie "A", de Kingston.

174. Le lieut-colonel J. B. Strange, inspecteur d'artillerie pour la province de Québec, et commandant de l'ócole d'artillerie, batterie "B", de Québec, transmettra aux quartiers généraux, un rapport détaillé de son inspection annuelle des corps d'artillerie dans la province de Québec, et un rapport sur l'école d'artillerie, batterie "B" de Québec.

175. Le lieutenant-colonel Jago, artillerie du Nouveau-Brunswick, fera l'inspection annuelle de tout les corps d'artillerie dans cette province, et en transmettra un rapport aux quartiers généraux.

176. Les rappoits annuels des inspecteurs pour cette arme du service devront être transmis à l'adjudant général aux quartiers généraux pas plus tard que le 1er novembre 1872.

177. Les exercices annuels de tous les corps pour l'année 1872-73, devront être terminés avant le 31 octobre 1872, et les rapports annuels d'inspection, ainsi que ceux de la pratique du tir, transmis aux quartiers généraux par les députés adjudants généraux en même temps que leurs propres rapports annuels, immédiatement après l'inspection de tous les corps de milice dans leurs districts respectifs, afin de permettre à l'adjudant général de préparer son rapport annuel sur l'état de la milice en temps convenable pour pouvoir être présenté à la législature fédérale.

These Marksmen have been selected from among many of the best shots in the Dominion, with due regard to respectability of character.

The Adjutant General feels confident that the individuals selected for this honorable service will prove by their conduct and good discipline as well as by their skill in the use of the rifle, worthy represen-tatives of their country and of the military force to which they belong.

In announcing the despatch of this Detachment the Adjutant General desires to call the special attention of the non-commissioned Officers and men of the Active Militia, now p⁴ rforming or about to perform their annual course of target practice in the various camps of exercise, to the event, in the hope that it may tend to promo! e increased emulation and efficiency.

Should circumstances admit of the annual despatch of a similar detachment to England, in selecting in-dividuals due regard to character and conduct will invariably be paid, for although skill in the use of the rifle is indispensable, respectability of character in a representative of the Dominion is of primary importance.

Sergeant Major L. Kelly, of 2nd Battalion Rifles G. T. R. B. will accompany the Detachment pro-ceeding to Wimbledon and perform such duties as the Officer in command may direct.
